Hurricane Is Churning Toward Louisiana At A 100-Mile-An-Hour Pace

By BEN THOMAS
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Hurricane Hilda — her winds increased to 100 miles-an-hour — churned through the Gulf of Mexico early today with coastal Louisiana as her probable target.

The New Orleans Weather Bureau's early morning advisory said Hilda's eye was 370 miles south of New Orleans — or about 320 miles from the nearest land.

The hurricane continued to move to the northwest but the advisory said it would veer toward the north and increase in size and intensity.

HEADING INLAND

It was still too far offshore for the Weather Bureau to hazard a guess as to when and where it might move inland.

Residents of low-lying coastal areas, remembering killer hurricanes of the past, scurried inland to high ground.

The latest advisory said Hilda had increased her punch

'64 RAINFALL IS SHORT BY OVER 6 INCHES

September was the fifth consecutive month with a shortage of rainfall and the 1964 rainfall deficiency has built up to more than six inches, records at The Gettysburg Times weather station showed today.

Showers that began last Sunday evening helped give the month a total of 2.61 inches but that is 0.71 inches short of normal for September in Gettysburg. Measurable amounts of rain fell on only seven days last month.

Not since April has there been a month with surplus rainfall this year. May was the driest May on record here and June was the driest in a decade while July, August and September all fell short of normal rainfall levels.

Rainfall in the first nine months of this year amounts to 26.08 inches. The normal figure by October 1 is 32.13 inches.

HIGH WAS 94

There were four days of 90-degree weather last month with a high of 94 degrees the afternoon of September 11 but record-setting near-freezing temperatures near the middle of the month helped bring the month's average temperature to below normal.

Last month was the third consecutive September to have below normal temperatures here. That series of cool Septembers followed three years when Septembers were warmer than usual.

Last month's average reading was 65.52 degrees. Normal is 66.9 degrees. Last year the average for the month was 63.1 degrees. The month's low reading came on the morning of the 14th at 38 degrees when rural areas reported frost. The daily maximum readings averaged 77.71 last month and the average for the daily low reading was 53.33 degrees.

WORSER IN 1963

A year ago the rainfall shortage was more severe. The first nine months of 1963 were short by 9½ inches of normal rainfall — and October of last year was the first month in 60 years of weather records here that did not receive any measurable rainfall. Light showers fell the evening of October 31 but were credited to November.

Last year ended with a shortage of 11½ inches of rain. The preceding year of 1962 was short nearly five inches and 1961 was two inches below normal. This year's shortage comes after this protracted drought.

Move To Curb Junkyards And Garbage Pest

The Mount Pleasant Twp. supervisors at a meeting Wednesday night in the home of the secretary, Louis W. Wagaman, Gettysburg R. 5, adopted an ordinance "to prohibit nuisances, including, but not limited to, accumulations of garbage and rubbish and the storage of abandoned or junked automobiles on private or public property and the carrying on of any offensive manufacture or business and to remove any nuisance or dangerous structure or excavation on public or private grounds."

An overflow audience of township residents attended the meeting. Wagaman said the crowd "filled my house, the porch and overflowed onto the lawn." Attorney Richard A. Brown, solicitor for the township, said "It was a good meeting. The open discussion helped dispel a number of misconceptions and showed what the supervisors are trying to do to protect health, welfare and property values in the community."

DISMISS PETITION

A petition signed by a number of township residents opposing the nuisance ordinance was presented. It pertained to a number of matters which were not considered in the ordinance and it was dismissed.

Discussed at the meeting also were two other ordinances which the supervisors are considering and which will probably come up for adoption in the near future. Wagaman said the meeting will be held at the Centennial fire hall to discuss the ordinances.

The secretary said the nuisance ordinance came about largely as a result of a steady increase in the number of auto junkyards in the township. He said there "are about a dozen now." Some of the

The counties are: Adams, Franklin, Fulton, Perry, Juniata, Mifflin, Snyder, Northumberland, Montour and Northampton.

Eleven other northeastern Pennsylvania counties already have been granted drought-emergency status. Such designation qualified farmers for feed grain aid at reduced prices through the commodity credit corporation.

PLAN INQUEST INTO CRASH IN JUNE; 2 KILLED

An inquest into the death of Jacob Eugene Emler, 47, York Springs, on June 14 will be conducted by Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, Friday afternoon, at 4 o'clock at the courthouse.

Emler, an employee of the Paul Wolf bus lines, York Springs, was killed instantly on the afternoon of Sunday, June 14, when a tractor-trailer, laden with potatoes crushed a car owned by Paul Wolf and operated by Emler and then smashed into the rear of an auto operated by C. Raymond Myers, Steelton.

Emler, according to news reports at the time, had gone to the Myers car with gasoline on a call to the garage for such assistance. Emler was killed in the accident a mile north of York Springs while Mrs. Ruth Beistline, 36, Steelton, a passenger in the Myers car died the following day at the Harrisburg Hospital.

Her husband, John Beistline, 38, also of Steelton, was critically hurt in the accident, but has recovered, and Dr. Crist said he will appear as a witness Friday afternoon.

Clair R. Slaybaugh was the auctioneer.

The Adams County Farmers' Association at its 14th annual dinner meeting Wednesday evening in Benderville re-elected five men for new terms on its board of directors and adopted 17 statements of policy covering topics ranging from foreign aid to roadside littering.

About 130 members and their wives attended the meeting in the Benderville hall with President Horace Frey presiding. The guest speaker was Robert Steele, director of research for the Pennsylvania Farmers' Association at Harrisburg.

BALK AT WITHHOLDING

The farmers adopted, sometimes over a few dissenting votes, 17 of the 18 statements of policy presented by Charles L. Lott, chairman of the policies committee. They balked at recommending the withholding of income taxes from agricultural workers. Discussion indicated that most of the farmers feared the extra book-keeping it would entail.

Policies adopted included: A recommendation that all food processors announce the price they are paying for fruits or vegetables at least 15 days before processing begins; opposed the extension of the minimum wage and hour act to include agriculture; opposed any government control of procurement of migrant labor on the grounds that the present system is satisfactory. In another statement, they went on record as being "not opposed to a Project 70 project in Adams County unless the county would be required to provide matching funds and provided that no farm families should be relocated against their will."

Sunken Sub Thresher's Tail Found

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy said today that underwater search operations this summer located the tail section of the sunken submarine Thresher and the sub's tail bearing her number, 593.

This was the most conclusive evidence yet of the location of the remains of the nuclear submarine, which went down with 129 men aboard in April 1963, during deep-dive tests off the New England coast.

The Thresher was lost in about 8,400 feet of water, some 220 miles east of Boston.

A year ago, after months of inspection and photographing of the ocean bottom by the bathyscaphe Trieste, the Navy produced a twisted pipe, which it said came from the Thresher, plus reports of sizable hunks of metal wreckage. The hull of the sub was never pinpointed beyond until today.

SCOLERI LOSES THIRD APPEAL AGAINST CHAIR

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Anthony Scoleri, convicted of first degree murder in the holdup-slaying of a South Philadelphia merchant, has been sentenced to death in the electric chair.

A jury of eight men and four women fixed the death penalty early today, some seven hours after returning the guilty verdict.

It is the third time Scoleri had been given the death sentence for the 1958 slaying of Max Gordon.

ARREST BROTHERS

Immediately after the jury's decision, Scoleri's two brothers, Freddie, 37, and Dante, 33, were arrested in the courtroom and held on perjury charges. Freddie's wife, Lillian, 32, was held as a material witness. All were freed in $1,000 bond.

After reading the verdict to Judge Raymond Pace Alexander late Wednesday afternoon, the jury retired to deliberate the penalty. They returned with the death recommendation at 12:28 a.m.

In an address to the jurors earlier, Asst. Dist. Atty. Richard A. Sprague asked them to fix the death penalty, declaring a "life sentence would be nothing at all."

John R. Carroll, Scoleri's attorney, asked for a new trial and Judge Alexander granted him 30 days to prepare a request.

BAUER GIVEN 2-YEAR PACT

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP)—Manager Hank Bauer, who has kept the Baltimore Orioles in contention for the American League pennant down to the final week of the season, was rewarded today with a two-year contract.

"I think Hank has done an outstanding job this year, and he has been given a substantial increase," said Oriole President Lee MacPhail in announcing the rehiring of an old friend.

MacPhail didn't reveal Bauer's salary, but the one-time New York Yankee outfielder is believed to have signed for about $35,000. In his debut as Oriole skipper this season, Bauer was paid a bit under the $30,000 level.

Although one more Baltimore loss or one more New York victory will eliminate the Orioles from the pennant race, the club had a chance to post its best finish since rejoining the major leagues in 1954.

Full Protection Held Impossible

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, senior member of a four-man committee studying ways to improve protection of presidents, says he does not think "that the president 'ever can be perfectly protected' from assassination."

Dillon and the other committee members met for an hour Wednesday with President Johnson, who established the group Sunday and told it to follow up recommendations of the Warren Commission that investigated the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Dillon said the group would come up with its own recommendations in time for them to be included in the next budget and in legislative proposals to be submitted to the next Congress, which opens in January.

Ocracoke, N.C., is situated on the western end of Ocracoke Island, a 15-mile-long strip of sand and grass between the Atlantic and shallow Pamlico Sound.

Say 72 Million Will Vote Nov. 3

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 72 million Americans will cast votes Nov. 3 if the same percentage of those of voting age take part as did in the 1960 election.

The Census Bureau, estimating that there will be almost 114 million Americans of voting age come Election Day, said the same 63 per cent turnout of 1960 would produce about 72 million votes.

The 68,838,000 votes cast four years ago is a record turnout for a presidential election.

The bureau's estimate is based on the number of persons of voting age, which is 21 in 46 states and the District of Columbia, 20 in Hawaii, 19 in Alaska, and 18 in Georgia and Kentucky.

In 1960, the number of age-qualified Americans was 109 million. Since then more than 10 million Americans have grown old enough to vote.

THREE WHITES ARRESTED FOR 2 BOMBINGS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three white men were arrested in Mississippi in connection with recent bombings of Negro homes near McComb, the Justice Department and Mississippi Gov. Paul Johnson said today.

The arrests were made by BI agents, members of the State Highway Patrol and Pike County Sheriff R. R. Warren.

The three were charged under Mississippi law with illegal use of explosives, a crime that carries a possible death penalty.

They were identified by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and Johnson as Ernest Frederick Zeek, 25, and Jimmy Preston Wilson, 38, both of McComb; and Paul Dewey Wilson, 25, who moved from McComb to Jayess, Miss., Wednesday.

Officials said the break in the investigation came Wednesday, when federal and state agents saw Wilson moving guns and ammunition.

Paul Wilson is charged in two bombings. The first was at the home of the Rev. James Baker Sr., in Pike County on Sept. 9. The FBI said Wilson allegedly hurled three sticks of dynamite at the Baker house.

All three men are charged in the second bombing, one that took place late in evening of Sept. 20 at the home of Aylene Quin on Summit Street in McComb.

WARNS PUBLIC OF MEN POSING AS SS AGENTS

An urgent warning to all social security beneficiaries to be aware of confidence men posing as representatives of the Social Security Administration was issued today by Joseph B. O'Connor, regional director of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

O'Connor said his office has recently received a number of complaints concerning the operations of men, both singly and in groups, posing as representatives of the Social Security Administration so as to gain admittance into the homes of social security beneficiaries. The impersonators have represented themselves as being doctors, "check-up" men, or "information" collectors sent by the Social Security Administration to determine whether monthly benefits should be paid, should be continued, or perhaps should be increased. This hoax was recently used to drug and rob elderly people. Other cases have been reported where nothing was actually stolen but the impersonator was after personal and confidential information for his own purposes.

OFFICIAL CARD

O'Connor stressed that an official identification card should be requested from anyone holding himself out to be a representative of the Social Security Administration. Each official representative is provided with an identification card bearing his photograph and description, and will show it on request. In any instance where an alleged representative refuses to show his official identification, a report should immediately be made to the local police, to the social security district office, or to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Letters To The Editor

Sept. 2, 1964

Dear Sir:

The citizens of Adams County are entitled to know the following facts with reference to the operation of the Hercules Alchor Chemical Co. at its Seven Stars operation.

June 5, 1964, the Pennsylvania State Air Pollution Commission ordered Hercules Alchor to "alter its manufacturing operations so that . . . no visible emissions occur at ground level outside the plant property after July 5, 1964." That order was supposed to go into effect 59 days ago.

The Air Pollution Control Act provides a minimum fine of $30 and "convicted of a third or subsequent offense . . . pay a fine of not less than $500. . . . Violations on separate days shall be considered separate offenses."

As of this date Hercules Alchor is committing its 59th offense and had the law been properly administered by director of the Division of Air Pollution Control Victor H. Sussman Hercules Alchor would be fined a total of $28,560 according to the mandatory minimum requirements of the law but Mr. Sussman for whatever his reasons has let them off with $400 total. This amounts to a $2.26 penalty per eight-hour shift in place of a mandatory minimum of over $161.36 per eight-hour shift.

We have kept Gov. William W. Scranton fully informed as you can see from the below quoted paragraphs from our August 20, 1964, letter but have received no reply to date on these questions:

Did you know Mr. Sussman, speaking presumably for you, says in his August 11, 1964, reply, "It is impossible to conduct daily inspections?" This in spite of the fact that visual inspection can be performed by state police backed 3 1/2 miles from the Seven Stars plant. Section 1 of the June 5, 1964, order states, "No visible emissions (shall) occur at ground level outside the plant property," while Section 2 added, "On or before July 5, 1964, cease any of its aluminum chloride manufacturing which is not altered in the manner set for in Par. 1 of this order."

Did you know Hercules Alchor has to date been allowed to operate in violation of the June 5, 1964, order 24 hours a day, seven days a week for 46 days, the penalties for which minimum by now total $22,060 while the lack of enforcement has let Hercules Alchor operate illegally 46 days for total fine of $400?

The state of Pennsylvania is breaking the law in this case for the APC act says Sec. 9 Par. (b): "Convicted of a third or subsequent offense . . . be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than $500.00 nor more than $1,000.00 or undergo imprisonment not exceeding one year or both." Par. (c) "For the purposes of this section VIOLATION ON SEPARATE DATE SHALL BE CONSIDERED SEPARATE OFFENSES."

Did you know further Mr. Sussman in this August 11, 1964, speaking presumably for you says, " . . . August 10 . . . inspection indicated there had been PARTIAL COMPLIANCE." We have read and reread the Jan. 8, 1960, APC act and find nowhere under penalties is allowance made for partial compliance.

Several weeks ago we asked Adams County Representative Harry D. Ridinger that Gov. Scranton meet a delegation consisting of an Adams County commissioner, a Franklin Twp. supervisor and others with reference to the ineffectiveness of the law enforcement in the Hercules Alchor matter but no such conference has been scheduled.

Dear Mr. Roy,
Soon we will be electing lawmakers to enact laws for the protection of us all. I'd like to know what is the use of passing new laws, when the one we have are being disobeyed — disobeyed with the apparent consent of law-enforcing bodies.

I am referring to the Air Pollution law and the fact that it is

FARMER GROUP

The Supreme Court decision on redistricting. They also recommended that the food and drug administration establish "practical tolerance levels in milk and other foods" until more exhaustive research can be made.

Other statements urged that the federal government gradually withdraw from price supports and supply management programs; recommended that foreign aid be subjected to constant review; urged "caution" upon the county school board in establishing an area technical school; recommended that all DHIA testers be state-licensed and that their results be honored by all milk plants; urged more stringent enforcement of the antilittering law and suggested that beverage companies raise the deposit on bottles to cut down throwaways.

WANT ZONING VOICE

They urged that if zoning boards are set up each one have at least one farmer on it; recommended expansion of the emergency feed grains program to include more dairymen; asked enforcement of laws to protect property owners against careless use of brush killers; approved the state PFA policy on antlerless deer which includes provision for more deer hunting permits in areas where deer damage occurs, and asked for a state bounty on raccoons.

In his concluding talk, Steele said, "Future farm safety depends upon the legislative, public relations and education programs of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Association and the Farm Bureau Federation." He said, "We've got to be better politicians. We must get good candidates and put time, talent and money into winning their election." He stressed the importance of winning public understanding of the aims and programs of the farm groups and stressed the importance of the "ambitious marketing programs" the PFA and Farm Bureau are launching.

After the dinner President Frey daily being disobeyed by Hercules Alchor Chemical Company of Seven Stars, Pa. Despite the fact that the good citizens of Seven Stars have been working diligently and have even employed the services of an attorney, got a court order closing this place, it continues to emit smoke, stink, fumes and ill-will 24 hours, day and night, seven days a week.

It pollutes the air, kills vegetation, corrodes aluminum storm windows, devalues real estate, makes noise and smoke to say nothing of endangering the health of this entire community. Cars have actually run off the highway onto the road shoulder when going by this place due to dense smoke. This is along Lincoln Highway West, where traffic is heavy.

I'm writing this because I hate injustice and most especially when it is so close home. I hope that you will print my letter because your paper could render a public service by trying to force the closing and removal of this nuisance and health menace called Hercules Alchor. This would only be forcing obedience of an existing law.

Sincerely,
Mrs. William Coleman

introduced the county commissioners and a number of other officials in the audience including County Farm Agent Thomas Piper who announced the community planning seminars to begin next Wednesday evening at the high school here.

SPENT $7,581

The annual financial report for the Farmers' Association, read by Secretary Calvin Bream, was accepted. It showed a balance of $1,034 after expenditures of $7,581. The biggest outlay was $6,084 for dues in the American Farm Bureau Federation.

In his annual report, President Frey noted that the county Farmers' Association set a new membership record at 512 this year and helped the state association top old membership marks. He announced the state convention at Scranton in November and the Farm Bureau Federation convention at Philadelphia December 6 to 10.

Proposed changes in the by-laws were presented by Secretary Bream and all were approved. Other changes were adopted to make county membership rules conform to those of the state organization.

OTHER NOMINEES

The election of directors followed. In addition to those elected, these names were placed on the ballot: Irvin Conover, Thomas Dolly, Mac Lott, Mervin Myers and Donald Rhodes. On the first ballot, Behney and Lott were tied for the fifth position on the board. The tie was broken on a show of hands.

The association gave the board of directors authority to choose two delegates to the state convention in addition to President Frey. Mrs. Betty Livingston, chairman of the women's committee, announced plans for chartering a bus to take countians to the Philadelphia convention on December 8, Pennsylvania Day at the Farm Bureau convention. The bus trip will cost $3.30.

James Gordon, new district manager for the family insurance program, was introduced.

INVOKES ACT

President Johnson invoked the Taft-Hartley Act late Wednesday for the first time since he entered the White House.

His action was expected to lead to speedy issuance of a court injunction ordering the longshoremen back to work for an 80-day cooling-off period. During this time, his board of inquiry would investigate, report to the President and conduct a union membership vote on the latest offer by management.

The board was appointed by an executive order on the basis that the strike could imperil the nation's health and safety and affect the movement of food and other essential perishable products to heavily populated areas.

auto junkyard owners voiced opposition to the ordinance. Clarence Gallagher, who operates a 10-acre yard at Mt. Rock seemed to favor some regulation.

JUNKYARD FEE

One of the proposed ordinances relates to regulation of junkyards and will provide for issuance of permits for a fee.

The other will be a building permit ordinance, providing that all persons doing new construction, except agriculture, will be required to obtain a permit.

The ordinance which was passed Wednesday night provides fines up to $300 or 30 days in jail in default of the fines. It also provides that when a person has a nuisance and does not correct it on notice, the township can abate the nuisance and then bill the owner for the cost, plus $10.

Williams Defeats Daniels In Decision

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Cleveland Williams, one of the four fighters picked for the heavyweight championship elimination series, won a unanimous 10-round decision over Billy Daniels Wednesday night.

Williams, former champion Lloyd Patterson, Ernie Terrell and Doug Jones have been named by the WBA for the elimination series to pick a successor to Cassius Clay. The WBA took the title away from Clay when he signed for a rematch with Sonny Liston.

FIRE COMPANY GOING TO BUY EQUIPMENT

The York Springs Fire Company Tuesday night authorized the purchase of several pieces of equipment, some designed to improve the safety of the volunteers.

The company agreed to buy a 16-foot cutter pole for electric wires and heavy insulated gloves to be worn when the cutter pole is in use.

The pole may be used only by Chief Paul Wolfe or his two assistants, or by someone directly under their care.

They also decided to purchase a section hose wrench, a fire plug wrench and a newer and bigger battery and box for the Reo engine.

Chief Wolfe said that needed repairs were not made to the Ford truck because of the dry weather conditions that had existed in the area. Since the truck would have had to go out of town for repairs, he decided to await rain which alleviated the potential fire threat.

It was announced that no further information had been received from the architect on the partially completed blueprints to restore the Community building.

Secretary James McClellan announced that the note at the York Springs Bank had been paid in full.

TO JOIN DEMONSTRATION
William E. Brown, York Springs R. 1, was accepted as a new member.

Donald Kemper, assistant chief, said the county firemen had requested that the new call signals be used in order to reduce air traffic and allow the Quick Call Center to maintain surveillance on all vehicles when they are out of the station. The new signals also apply to the ambulance, he said.

The group decided to send a piece of equipment and demonstrate an operation at Littlestown October 11 in connection with National Fire Prevention Week.

Two Adams County high schools have closed for one to two weeks and at least one other will decide Monday whether classes will be suspended to permit pupils to meet the serious labor shortage on county farms and in the orchards. A student poll Friday showed that 80 percent of the pupils at the Ardenville Vocational school had been offered farm, orchard, canning or packing plant positions. The school will delay opening for two weeks. Only 20 percent of the pupils at Biglerville High School have been offered jobs, but Principal Leslie V. Stock said that the school will be closed if sufficient demands for labor are received. Since Friday's count, one processing plan has asked for 75 boys and girls over 18 years of age. The New Oxford school was closed for one week to permit about 80 percent — 100 pupils — to work in corn fields, bean patches and orchards.

Today's Talk*KEEPING QUALITIES

The books that we love, we return to — again and again. They have spiritual substance. They call to us. They have keeping qualities, like old friends, of whom we never tire, but seek out for renewed hope and confidence.

There are certain books, which we term as classics, because they have stood the test of time. They are never old, but ever new. To them we return because they feed our mental and spiritual structure, when first encountered. And each return gives to us new revelations, and new viewpoints.

Someone has said that after you have read a new book you should select an old one to read. The contrast is always both enlightening and profitable. No matter how much we have enjoyed, or gained from a good book, a second, or more, reading of that book, gives us new intellectual nourishment. In fact, it never seems to run out of its new givings!

But a single reading of Shakespeare, or Montaigne, for example, would cheat one of many and many a happy experience! I had a friend who once told me that he never went to bed without dipping into Shakespeare; and, of course, the Bible is a daily spiritual diet for many.

John Burroughs said that such books as those that have keeping qualities, also have a "living reality." They become both companions and friends — silent ones who never quarrel with us, but who travel along with us throughout life.

It is well to select one's friends in the same manner as one selects one's books — those with his same keeping quality. There are too many books likened to a bed of ashes, where the coals of a once burning grate fire are beyond all efforts to rekindle a blaze. They are the books that die early.

We should ever be on the search for those things that keep adding to life, to its enjoyment and improvement, as well as to its usefulness. We should keep hunting for the keeping qualities that uplift and ever lead us on. It's the way to happiness and personal satisfaction.

Just Folks*CONTENTMENT

"I do not ask," said he, "for fame,
One weary of the world's acclaim,
And tires of constant strife
Nor all the money to be spent
Can purchase comfort or content,
Or soothe the road of life,
That peace man strives so hard to gain
For something else he must attain."

"I've thought it out! The happiest man
Is he who does the best he can
Whatever be his post;
Who is content to toil and take
What skill and industry can make,
And from it wrest the most;
Who keeps his joys and needs
Within
The means which he has strength
To win."

"Tis not in much and massive size
That man's desired contentment
Lies.
The price of wealth is strain!
Prisons, with wardens stern in charge
Are prisons, however large
Where peace is sought in vain,
No mansion gives a guarantee
That dwellers there shall happy be."

"I've thought it out. Come more or less,
Enough holds all the happiness
That man can ever know;
When rich and poor man lie
asleep,
Which bed serves better, dear or cheap?
And when the cold winds blow,
If both be sheltered, safe and warm,
Which house has better braved the storm?"

The executive committee of the Littlestown Bicentennial, Inc., held its first full meeting in the bicentennial meeting room of the Community Center.

The contract for the bicentennial book to be published in conjunction with the celebration August 1 through 7, 1965, was awarded to the American Yearbook Company, after consideration of the five estimates submitted for consideration.

All members of the executive committee were in attendance with Chairman J. Arthur Boyd presiding. Cochairman Marvin F. STOCK FOR CHRISTMAS

Headquarters Chairman Samuel H. Higinbotham offered suggestions concerning ways of keeping the dates before the public and plans were made to follow one or more of them. Chairman Boyd expressed the desire to secure the names of former residents of the community who may be interested in securing shares of bicentennial stock for Christmas giving. Anyone locally who desires to make such purchases may see the bicentennial treasurer, Ray T. Harner, at the Littlestown National Bank. Anyone who has purchased stocks and has not received them, may also pick them up at the bank. They are not mailed because it is felt that most owners will want to frame the shares and folding for mailing would be undesirable.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Nine inmates broke out of a maximum security building at the Philadelphia State Hospital at Byberry Wednesday night, but five were quickly recaptured. Hospital aides said a heavy retention screen was ripped from a second-floor window and the window smashed. The men then dropped 25 feet to the roof of an adjoining one-story building, they said.

One man, identified as Robert Bockius, 24, broke his right leg in the jump and was removed from the roof by firemen. Another was caught on the hospital grounds and three others were picked up by a park guard on a PTC bus near the institution.

ARMY RUSHES*FOOD TO 30,000*FLOOD VICTIMS

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian army rushed food by helicopter and rescuers by road and boat today to the aid of an estimated 30,000 persons marooned for two days by a dam burst that sent a 10-foot wall of water crashing down on the sleeping town of Macherla, in southeast India.

Estimates of the dead fluctuated widely in the confusion and communications breakdown following the disaster, believed the worst of its kind in India.

1,000 PERISHED

Irrigation Ministry sources said that according to unofficial estimates reaching them, more than 1,000 persons perished when the wall of water surged through the town of 25,000 in Andhra Pradesh State after a rain-swollen reservoir burst early Tuesday.

However, the Times of India reported a death toll of 200 for all of Andhra Pradesh. With six states of northern India already suffering from devastating floods, the southern state was hit by 18 inches of late monsoon rains in three days, flooding the Krishna and smaller rivers. At least 30 drownings outside of the Macherla area have been reported to New Delhi.

HARRISBURG (AP) — A $1,919,753 trust fund established by the late publisher, Vance C. McCormick, is being turned over to his stepdaughters for support of "religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational" activities in the area.

Judge Lee F. Swope of Dauphin County Court Wednesday ordered that the trust be held for use at the discretion of Gertrude Nauman and Jane Olmsted McMillan.

McCormick, who published the Patriot and Evening News until his death in 1946, stipulated in his will that the trust go first to his wife, Gertrude Howard McCormick, and then, upon her death, to his sister, Anne McCormick. The widow died in 1953 and the sister on Jan. 9 of this year.

Camp Hill Will Test Warriors Here Friday; Cannons In Key Game

Only two of the county schoolboy football teams will be in action Friday night, three having contests scheduled for Saturday.

Gettysburg High will have the home scene all to itself Friday evening when it entertains Camp Hill in another important Blue Mountain League game.

Delone Catholic goes after its third straight victory at Lancaster Catholic Friday evening.

Saturday's program will be featured by the clash between Biglerville and Boiling Springs on the Bubblers' field in the evening at 8 o'clock. Both are 2-0 in the BML.

Bermudian Springs has a home engagement with unbeaten St. Francis Prep at 2 o'clock while Littlestown plays at Susquehannock in a York County League game in a night game at 8.

CAMP HILL AT GETTYSBURG

This game, which should draw an overflow crowd, brings together a pair of teams who will be battling to remain in the championship picture. Both were pre-season picks to be strong contenders for the title but both were victims of surprises, Gettysburg being upended by Boiling Springs, and Camp Hill being laced by Biglerville.

Good and bad news came from Coach Don Young today. The good news was the announcement that Ron Plank, fullback, who missed last week's game due to an injury, will return to his position. On the other side, it was revealed that Bill Jones, end, will probably miss the game due to a sprained ankle. Dick Walker will replace Jones at the wing position.

Although hampered due to the rain, the Warriors are devoting much of their time in polishing up the offense which bogged down somewhat against Shippensburg and with the return of Plank a stronger attack is anticipated.

The Gettysburg coaching staff cited Jim Rowe, lineman, and Charlie Raffensperger, back, as standouts defensively last week.

Camp Hill and Gettysburg both have 1-1 records in the league. The Lions are 2-1 overall, winning from Susquehanna Twp. 13-6 and 6-0 from Susquehanna before being trounced by Biglerville last week 25-7.

With 16 lettermen, 12 of whom are seniors, Camp Hill has plenty of experience which justifies its selection as having a good shot at the 1964 title. The squad has good weight and speed and may be doubly tough after last week's upset.

In Laurie Roberts, 164, and Dan Reed, 143, the Lions have a pair of speedy, hard-running backs. Roberts is perhaps the most outstanding with his passing and punting.

Young said he felt that Camp Hill is a much better team than last week's score indicates and that Friday's game will be a tough scrap all the way. Last year Camp Hill won 14-0.

DELONE AT LANCASTER CATHOLIC

The Squires will be forced to make lineup adjustments for their game at Lancaster Friday night due to several injuries.

Joe Hockensmith, center, will miss the game while Ted Elliot, fullback, is a very doubtful performer. Both were injured last week. Coupled with that it was revealed today by Coach J. T. Flaherty that Cooptain Bob Wagner, guard, who missed the last two games, will be sidelined for the remainder of the season.

Don McClintock or Ronnie Groff will take over for Hockensmith at center. Elliot's replacement on the defense will be Don Emig while other adjustments will be made on the offense.

Delone, 2-1, will be gunning for its third straight success.

Lancaster Catholic, termed a pretty good outfit by Flaherty, topped Muhlenberg Twp. 12-6 last week for its initial victory after two losses to powerful opponents.

The Crusaders lost their opener to Bishop McDevitt 17-14 and then lost to Chambersburg 33-0. Delone's lone loss was to Chambersburg 25-13.

BIGLERVILLE AT BOILING SPRINGS

A record crowd may watch these old rivals tangle Saturday evening on the Bubblers' field.

Both are the surprise teams of the area, Boiling Springs being undefeated and unscored upon in three games while Biglerville is 2-1. They sport identical 2-0 records in the Blue Mountain circuit and a victory Saturday night will establish the winner as one of the favorites for the title.

Boiling Springs opened with a 18-0 win over Trinity Catholic, shocked everyone with a 7-0 verdict over Gettysburg and then breezed past Newport 26-0. Biglerville, jolted in its opener at St. Francis Prep, pulled two straight upsets in beating Big Spring 13-7 and Camp Hill 25-7 in league play.

Although the Cannons have dominated gridiron play over their old rivals for the last decade, the Bubblers apparently are on the comeback trail and will prove a big obstacle for Coach Jack Emanuel and his outfit.

Al Wilson, Bubblers coach, has gone to the pro-type of offense which means Biglerville can expect the air to be filled with passes. Thirteen members of the Boiling Springs squad are lettermen.

The surprising rise of Biglerville can be laid to a fine all-around team effort. The Cannons have over-come a size disadvantage with spirit and aggressiveness and if they can repeat their work of the past two weeks they may well win their third straight.

No injuries are reported on the Biglerville squad and Emanuel will be ready to go with his regular starting group.

ST. FRANCIS PREP AT BERMUDEAN

A real toughie awaits Coach Tom Shreiner and his Bermudian Eagles when they entertain unbeaten St. Francis Prep of Spring Grove at York Springs Saturday afternoon at 2.

St. Francis signified it would have a very capable team this season when it whipped Biglerville 27-7 in its opener and then made it two straight last Saturday, by nipping Shenandoah Catholic 14-12.

One of the biggest problems for Bermudian will be stopping Frank Fazio, a 6-2, 180-pound quarterback who is an excellent runner and passer. Up front the Eagles will have to contend with Maurice Fullerton, 6-4, 300-pound tackle. Both are lettermen in addition to Pete Dziedzic, 175-pound guard.

Bermudian takes a 1-2 record into the game. The Eagles lost to Northern and Juniata Joint before topping James Buchanan 18-13 last Saturday.

Shreiner revealed he may make two changes in his starting group. Mike Hertz, halfback, may draw a starting assignment while Jim Jacobs, end, is also a possible starter on defense. Other than those possible changes, the Bermudian lineup will remain intact.

The Eagles have been showing steady improvement and their defensive play during the second half of the Buchanan game was tabbed as the best in a long time.

LITTLESTOWN AT SUSQUEHANNOCK

Many more reserves will see action, according to Coach Bill Heyser as he prepares his Littlestown High Thunderbolts for an invasion of Glen Rock Saturday evening to meet the Susquehannock Warriors.

Heyser said he plans to use more subs to prevent his regulars from becoming over-tired as has been the case in recent games.

The victoryless Bolts will be out to snap a three-game losing streak. On the other hand Susquehannock has lost only to unbeaten Red Lion 20-6 with victories over Kennard-Dale 21-0 and Spring Grove 26-7.

Boasting the hopes of Littlestown will be the probable return of Jim Bittle, tackle, who had been sidelined with an injury.

Heyser plans to make some changes in the offensive line, much depending on the workouts today and Friday.

Susquehannock has 13 letter winners on its squad and Coach Bob McCoy will be able to put a seasoned performer at each position.

SIGNS WITH CAPS

Joe Cierceski, former Biglerville High School football star, has been signed to play with the Harrisburg Caps of the Atlantic Coast Football League. Cierceski, 6-3, 245, will be used both offensively and defensively at tackle.

Wednesday's Starts

Pitching — Bob Veale, Pittsburgh, struck out 16 batters and allowed seven hits in 12 1/2 innings as the Pirates edged Cincinnati 1-0 and dropped the Reds one game behind National League-leading St. Louis.

Batting — Elston Howard, New York, rapped four hits and drove in three runs in the Yankees' 7-6 and 11-8 doubleheader sweep of Detroit that carried the winners two steps closer to the American League pennant.

Corpus Christi, Tex., outpointed Billy Daniels, 194, New York, 10.

Manuel Gonzales, 149, Odessa, Tex., outpointed Johnny Brooks, 147, Wichita, Kan., 10.

PGA SENIORS GOLF TOURNEY HERE FRIDAY

The first professional golf tournament ever to be held here will be conducted Friday on the Gettysburg Country Club course when 28 pros will take part in the 18-hole Philadelphia Section, PGA Seniors Tournament. The public is invited to attend. There will be no admission.

Visiting pros will come here from eastern and central Pennsylvania, Delaware and parts of New Jersey which comprise the Philadelphia Section. Nationally, the country is divided into 30 sections.

All of the professionals must be 50 years of age and older in order to participate.

MUNDAY DEFENDS

Rod Munday, pro at the Gettysburg club, won the sectional title last year at the Meadowlands course, Philadelphia, when he fired a 69.

Among some of the outstanding visiting professionals who will take part are Jimmy Johnson, Philadelphia; Bill Goldbeck, Potomac Manor; Jack Helms, Carlisle, and Teri Johnson, Wilmington, Del.

The first group will tee off at 9:15 a.m. with the final group starting at 11:15 a.m.

GHS JAYVEES LOSE 6-0 TO CHAMBERSBURG

Gettysburg High School's junior varsity football outfit bowed at Chambersburg Wednesday afternoon 6-0 in opening the 1964 season.

A 60-yard pass play, Greg Christman to Dennis Zimmerman, gave the Trojans the only touchdown of the contest in the first quarter.

The Warriors made a strong bid for a score in the second half by driving from their own 20 to the Chambersburg 10 but missed a first down by a foot on a fourth down and three-to-go situation.

In the final minutes Gettysburg forced Chambersburg to punt from its own 10-yard line but the punt was fumbled by the Warriors and Chambersburg recovered on the 40 and then ran out the clock.

Larry White, John Heiser and Ron Mace were standouts for the losers.

Littlestown's jayvees will play here next Monday afternoon.

Yanks Move Very Close To 29th AL Pennant With Wins Over Tigers; Orioles Split

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

The corkscrews are out and the champagne's on ice. Today could be the day for Phil Linz to toot his harmonica again and this time he can play Yankee Doodle Dandy.

The New York Yankees are on the threshold of their 29th American League pennant today after a two-night doubleheader sweep against Detroit cut the magic number over the idle Chicago White Sox to two. The scores were 7-6 and 11-8. Another sweep against the Tigers today would end it.

Linz, who was fined $200 for tooting his harmonica during a Yankee slump in August, has promised not to play again until the clinching party. The fining was the low point of the Yankee season and the club seemed to jell immediately after it happened.

RAMOS FINISHES TIGERS

The double sweep against the Tigers climaxed a 22-6 September for the Bombers during which they left the White Sox and Baltimore Orioles behind and broke open what had been a tight pennant scramble.

Pete Ramos, who has been Manager Yogi Berra's bullpen stopper since coming to the Yankees from Cleveland Sept. 5, came on to finish the Tigers off in both ends of Wednesday's twinbill. Ramos has eight saves and once victory as a Yankee.

Roger Maris and Elston Howard each had three hits and three runs batted in in the nightcap after homers by Mickey Mantle (No. 35) and Joe Pepitone (No. 28) had helped win the opener. Tom Tresh had a two-run homer in the second game.

BERRA PLANS ROTATION FOR WORLD SERIES

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees aren't in yet but Manager Yogi Berra has chosen his opening-game pitcher for the World Series.

Berra was setting up his pitching rotation after Wednesday's 7-6, 11-8 sweep over Detroit which reduced the Yankees' magic number for their fifth straight pennant to a mere two.

"It will be Mel Stottlemyre and Roland Sheldon against the Tigers Thursday," Berra said. "Whitey Ford's heel still bothers him. But he'll go Friday no matter what."

STILL HAVE "CHANCE"

"By pitching Friday, Whitey would have just the right four day rest before next Wednesday's opener," the manager explained.

Did this mean Berra thought the Yankees were in?

"We've got a chance," the manager grinned as he huddled with Ford, his pitcher-coach. New York looked like a better bet than that against the Tigers in spite of some sloppy pitching.

3 HITTING HEROES

Roger Maris, Elston Howard and Tom Tresh were the hitting heroes in the nightcap as Jim Bouton won his 18th. Maris and Howard each drove in three runs with three hits and Tresh tagged a two-run homer.

The double victory was the Yankees' 12th sweep of the season, gave them 13 victories in their last 14 starts and a 22-6 record for their September pennant drive.

The defending champions can clinch their 29th pennant by sweeping the Tigers again today while the second place Chicago White Sox are idle.

Otherwise the champagne pouring will have to wait. Third place Baltimore, which split with Washington Wednesday, can do no better than tie and they would have to win their last three and have New York drop five straight to do that.

Elsewhere in the American League, Cleveland swept Boston 5-0 and 3-0 and Minnesota whipped Kansas City 6-1.

14TH IN 16 YEARS

The Yankees, who have won 13 of their last 14, are 28-10 since the Linz incident.

The clinching, whether it comes today or later in the week, will mark the Yankees' 14th pennant in 16 years and the first under Berra.

Baltimore's has a much slimmer chance after splitting with Washington. The Orioles would have to sweep their last three games and have the Yankees drop five straight to gain a tie.

Jerry Adair poked two homers and Jackie Brandt had a two-run shot to back up Bunker's 19th victory in the opener. But the Orioles slipped against Claude Osteen, who got relief help from Steve Ridzik to win his 15th in the nightcap.

Boog Powell rocked Osteen with his 38th homer but the Orioles, now five back in the loss column, couldn't mount a sustained attack.

G-BURG WINS FROM EAGLES IN X-COUNTRY

The Gettysburg College cross country team pulled a surprise by speeding to a 24-31 win over American University, Wednesday afternoon over the loser's 3.3 mile course.

Coach Hal Glad was well pleased with the showing of his runners. Pete Herslow has decided to give up the sport, leaving the Bullet tutor with two seniors and the rest sophomores. However, the sophomores came through with flying colors as they finished second, seventh and eighth.

Gettysburg's Jerry Staub set the pace throughout the meet and finished just one second ahead of teammate Bob Meares. Staub was clocked in 18:46 while Meares romped across in 18:47. Dave Bloomer, Rick Gilbert and Barry Geib collected the remaining points for the Bullets.

Tom Accardi topped the Eagles' order by placing third in 19:07 with teammates Ross Fields and Carl Viehie placing fourth and fifth respectively.

OPPOSE DUTCHMEN

The Bullets will attempt to make it two in a row when they meet Lebanon Valley here Saturday afternoon in a 1 o'clock contest.

LOPEZ SIGNS FOR 2 YEARS

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox, still holding a ghost of an American League pennant chance, will be back for two more seasons of sniping at the New York Yankee dynasty.

Lopez signed a second successive two-year contract Wednesday for his ninth and 10th White Sox managerial seasons extending through 1966.

The genial 56-year-old Lopez, hinting money was no object, had his salary upped to an estimated $50,800 annually.

He reportedly got $40,000 per year or 1963 and the current season, in which only an apparent miracle can enable the Sox to wrest the pennant from the Yankees.

General Manager Ed Short said at signing ceremony Lopez got a "well-deserved" pay hike. The amount was not disclosed. "I didn't even read the financial terms," said Lopez.

Biglerville Grade Team Beaten 6-0

The Biglerville Seventh and Eighth Grade football team dropped a 6-0 decision to Hanover in opening its season Wednesday afternoon at Biglerville, Hanover's score coming in the final two minutes of play.

Next Wednesday Biglerville will play at Bermudian Springs.

Participating in the game for Biglerville were: Ends—Gorman, Orner, McCauslin, D. Lady; tackles—Bodenberg, Gageby, Jordan, Jones; guards—Scott, Stine, McDannell, Caskey; center—Irvin; backs—C. Lady, Weaver, Heller, Pitzer, Wenk, Hess, Coradetti, Haller.

BULLETS LOSE FIRST SOCCER CONTEST 5-2

After giving up five goals in the first three frames, the Gettysburg College soccer team bounced back to put on a fine showing, but it was not good enough as Elizabethtown walked off with a 5-2 verdict Wednesday afternoon at Elizabethtown. The contest marked the opening of the season for both squads.

The Blue Jays struck hard and early. Bill Zimmerman gave the home team a 2-0 edge in the first frame with a pair of goals. He was assisted both times by Tony McLaughlin. Gettysburg managed to pull itself together in the second quarter and the half ended in the same 2-0 score.

Within the first nine minutes of the third period, Elizabethtown had rammed through three more goals to ice the verdict. This time McLaughlin was on the scoring end, hitting on a penalty shot and a goal assisted by Zimmerman. McLaughlin then rifled a pass to Cecil Sauder who in turn ripped the nets with a Jay score.

BULLETS SCORE

Gettysburg broke into the scoring column at the 4:35 mark of the final stanza. Sophomore Bob Ehrhart blasted an unassisted shot into the nets for the initial register on the scoreboard. A minute and five seconds later Bob Nix, playing outside left, rifled a shot in for a goal. Gettysburg seemed to be playing together and started rolling just when time ran out.

Bill Huber, Gettysburg goalie came up with 16 saves while Blue Jay goalie Joel Chase pulled down seven.

The Bullets will be going after their first win of the season when they take on Temple University here Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

Red China Celebrates Its 15th Anniversary Today

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Stalin said their insurrection had no prospects, told them to disarm and return to politics. But today, the stubborn men who scorned the old Bolshevik's orders celebrate the 15th anniversary of Red China.

Some are bent by age, but the Chinese leaders taking the salute of a half million of their fellow countrymen in Peking's Square of Heavenly Peace have lost none of the shrewdness or imagination which made them masters of China in 1949.

Then, as now, four men occupy the chief places of power. They are Communist Chairman Mao Tze-Tung, 70, the Chinese Stalin; Premier Liu Shao-Chi, 66, white-haired one-time labor organizer; Premier Chou En-lai, 66, China's most skillful diplomat, and Marshal Chu Teh, 78, chairman of the standing committee of the National People's Congress.

REVIEW 15 YEARS

Since Oct. 1, 1949, they have: —Radically altered the way of life and thought of 700 million Chinese.

—Challenged the two mightiest nations on earth, the United States and Soviet Union.

—Split international Communism into hostile camps and reasserted Chinese influence in Europe for the first time since the Mongol conquests of the 13th Century.

—Extended their philosophy of revolution and violence to Africa, Asia and South America, and —By threats, calculated show of force and diplomacy, achieved a dominant position in Asia based on a mixture of fear, respect and, in some cases, admiration.

FIRMLY IN SADDLE

No other ruling group in the world has survived the vicissitudes of war and politics for so long.

This foursome began the climb to power more than 40 years ago, thrown together by their belief in Marxism and a common antagonism to the Kuomintang's Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Though they once again are confronted with internal dissension — party intellectuals who oppose Mao's doctrine of struggle and revolution — they appear to be as firmly in the saddle as ever. Only age and the frailties of human life seem likely to bring them down.

SCRAPPY 2ND TEAM

Under them is a dedicated, scrappy second team. Among these veterans are Teng Hsiao-ping, Mayor Peng Chen of Peking, Defense Minister Marshal Lin Biao and economic czar Chen Yun.

Up to 1958, the Chinese elite built solidly. They started transforming the old China of poverty, special privilege, militarism, recurrent famines and landlordism into a modern state. Heavy industry, particularly steel, made spectacular advances. Consumer production was up, wages comparatively high. Agriculture was pulling itself out of a centuries-old doldrum.

From this platform, Mao and associates launched their ambitious program for an industrial "Great Leap Forward." To prop up this program, Mao forged the agricultural communes, herding the nation's 500 million peasants into thousands of communities centrally controlled and administered.

NATURAL DISASTERS

Natural disasters, Communist ineptitude and Soviet sabotage delivered crippling blows to all these plans.

The communes have been reduced to decentralized units.

Militarily, Mao possesses an army of considerable strength but, the experts say, of limited capability. Thanks to the Chinese leader's quarrel with Premier Khrushchev, it lacks a nuclear punch. His air force is small, his navy modest.

Travelers report the Chinese are better fed than they have been since 1961, when floods, typhoons, drought and locusts coupled with the withdrawal of Soviet aid, left the country starving in some places and generally prostrate.

ACCUSE MR. K

Stalin's advice to the Chinese to put away their guns came at the close of World War II after he had handed them Shanhaikwan, gateway to the rich industrial region of Manchuria. Stalin's contemptuous estimate of their future prospects was made after Mao's forces had been defeated there by Chiang. Stalin is long dead and long forgiven. But Khrushchev is something else again, either time nor circumstances are likely to mellow him in the Chinese memory.

The Chinese accuse him of hitting below the belt with cancellation of a promise to deliver an atom bomb to Peking in 1959. They complain about the withdrawal of Soviet aid, experts and blueprints in 1960 and the signing of a nuclear test-ban treaty in 1963 aimed, the Chinese contend, at depriving them of the chance to build an atom

CONFERENCE OK'S BILL TO EXEMPT AMISH

WASHINGTON (AP) — A joint Senate-House conference committee has approved a measure which may solve the nine-year-old question of whether the Old Order Amish religious sect must pay Social Security taxes, as the law requires, or withhold payment, as they say their religion requires.

The Senate-House conferees accepted Wednesday an amendment to the new Social Security bill, which would exempt the Old Order Amish from participation in the Social Security program.

The Amishmen, many of whom live in closely-knit farming communities in Western Pennsylvania and in the "Pennsylvania Dutch Country" east of Harrisburg, consider all forms of insurance—and they include Social Security in this category—as violations of their religion, which stresses self-reliance and faith in God.

AROSE IN 1955

The conflict arose in 1955, when self-employed farmers—the Amishmen's primary occupation—were brought under Social Security coverage.

Since then, the Treasury Department has placed tax liens upon the property of a number of Amishmen who refused to pay Social Security taxes, but the department placed a moratorium on enforcement of the bomb of their own.

ANSWER WAS DISCIPLINE

Until recently, no one knew in detail how seriously Khrushchev's quarrel with Mao had hurt the Chinese in the early 1960s. On Aug. 5, 1963, the State Department released 29 issues of a secret Red Chinese military publication which gave a partial answer. It is full of reports of peasant rebellion, hunger, starvation and disarray in the civilian population, depressed morale in the army, resentment and impatience with the Communist party.

Mao set about shoring up the Red establishment. His answer was discipline, a purge of corrupt and weak elements in the army and the party and a campaign to salvage what was left of the wreckage.

Buffeted by his enemies both within and outside the Communist bloc, still plagued by deficiencies at home, Mao's People's Republic at 15 is still very much an invalid.

But the miracle is that it is alive at all.

Meanwhile, the Social Security bill remains in the House-Senate conference committee, which still has to work out other aspects of it, including the controversial provision of health care for the aged, a provision inserted by the Senate.

HONOR MEDAL WINNER SAYS CRISIS WOULD END BICKERING

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Congressional Medal of Honor winner Wednesday emphasized this nation's ability to set aside political differences in the face of a challenge from abroad.

Luther Skaggs, one of 92 winners of the nation's highest military distinction who are attending a three-day convention at nearby Valley Forge, said:

"If we are ever attacked, we would cease bickering immediately and band together to fight that enemy."

BUSINESS TODAY

Skaggs, of Churchton, Md., is two-term president of the Congressional Medal of Honor Society.

The society's convention continues today, with a business session on its agenda to elect new officers. Skaggs said Wednesday he plans to step down and will recommend retired Army Col. Ray Harvey of Beverly Hills, Calif., as his successor.

Tonight the Medal of Honor winners will attend a banquet in New York. Special guests at the affair will be former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman.

HERO ON GUAM

Skaggs won his medal on Guam in 1944, when as a private first class he had to take over leadership of his mortar platoon and he led it through enemy machine gun fire. Skaggs lost a leg in that action. He is now a management analyst with the Veterans' Administration in Washington.

Harvey was awarded his medal of honor as an Army captain in Korea. He killed 25 of the enemy and wounded 15 in a one-man assault with a carbine and hand grenades. He is now an executive with the aerospace firm of Northrup Corp.

Harvey said that as long as our society continues to be a showcase of democracy and its principles, we can achieve peace. He urged citizens to take

Red Paper Lashes Catholic Church

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The ruling Communist party says loyalty to the state from the Roman Catholic priesthood is a basic condition of the kind of church-state accord recently reached in Communist Hungary.

The statement in Communist party paper Trybuna Ludu accused the Catholic Church hierarchy of disobeying laws and regulations and using medieval methods on unbelievers. It said the Polish government "demands the observance of the elementary principles of loyalty, correctness and order toward the state and its legal and constitutional principles."

UNIONVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A barbecue and political rally for Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater at 5 p.m. today will feature Mike Goldwater, 23-year-old son of the Arizona senator.

Mike Goldwater was scheduled to arrive at Philadelphia International Airport shortly after noon today.

Five Firemen Buried Alive In Fall Of Old Toy Factory

BOSTON (AP) — Five firemen were killed early today when they were buried under tons of brick and mortar from a wall that collapsed as they fought a blaze in a vacant building.

The fire in what once was a four-story toy factory claimed the greatest number of Boston fire fighters since 1942 when six were killed.

Among today's dead was Pvt. John Clougherty, 31, son of acting Fire Chief John Clougherty, who was directing 200 fire fighters at the scene and saw the men killed.

"My God!" he exclaimed in disbelief. "I've lost my son!"

The others were Pvt. Frank Murphy, 44; Lt. John Geswell, 40; Lt. John McCorkle, 53, and Pvt. James B. Sheedy, 38.

12 OTHERS INJURED

A dozen other fire fighters and one civilian were taken to Boston City Hospital, some in serious condition.

Acting Fire Chief William Terenzi, for whom the elder Clougherty was acting, appeared at the fire despite his illness. He said the behavior of the wall which collapsed was contrary to what normally would be expected.

A second wall collapsed 10 minutes after the fire fighters were killed, raining bricks on the men digging for their fallen colleagues.

The second wall partly buried a fire truck and an ambulance. It caused no serious injuries.

School Integration Spreads To 11 States

(Editor's Note — The following is reprinted from Southern School News, a publication of the Southern Education Reporting Service).

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The new school year opened quietly with 127 newly desegregated school districts in the 11 Southern states, according to Southern School News.

New desegregation this fall gives the South a total of 570 districts with policies admitting Negroes to schools with whites, at the kindergarten through high school level. With the beginning of desegregated classrooms in Mississippi for the first time, every Southern state now has established biracial classes in both public graded schools and public colleges and universities.

UNDER 2 PER CENT

Although one-fourth of the districts having both races enrolled are desegregated, the number of Negroes in schools with whites apparently will remain below two percent of the 2.9 million Negro students in the public schools. The last complete survey in May determined that the 11 states had 1.18 per cent of its Negro students in schools with whites during the 1963-64 school year.

The pace of new desegregation this fall continues about as strong as last year, when school desegregation activity picked up considerably. The 11-state area added 135 newly desegregated districts at school opening in August and September of 1963.

BORDER STATES

In the border states, Kentucky added one new desegregated district and Oklahoma, two. This gives the 17 Southern and border states, plus the District of Columbia, a total of 1,289 desegregated districts, representing 43 per cent of the region's 3,026 district shoving students of both races. The region has 3,093 districts that are either all white or all Negro.

Every Southern state increased the number of desegregated districts this fall, ranging from one more in Louisiana to 24 in Texas and 25 in Virginia. The number of districts desegregating in the other states were: Alabama, four; Arkansas, eight; Florida, five; Georgia, six; Mississippi, four; North Carolina, 21; South Carolina, 15; and Tennessee, 14. Georgia has one other district, Houston County, planning to desegregate in January, 1965.

TEXAS LEADS

Texas continues to have the largest number of Negroes in schools with whites, reporting an estimated 25,000 for the new school year. Next are Virginia, with an estimated 6,000, and Florida, with approximately 6,652 Negroes in biracial schools. Estimates on desegregated Negro students in other states include: Arkansas, 898; Georgia, 1,000; Louisiana, 678; Mississippi, 60; North Carolina, 3,250, and South Carolina, 261. Estimates were unavailable in Alabama and Tennessee.

Of the five school districts named as defendants in the School Segregation Cases of 1954, only Clarendon County, S.C., has never desegregated. The district remains under the original order of 1955 to comply "with all deliberate speed," and another school case is pending.

SPREADS IN S.C.

However, South Carolina experienced considerable desegregation activity this fall. Previously, only one district, Charleston, had desegregated and that was last year by federal court order. The state this fall began its second year of desegregated schools with 11 districts desegregating voluntarily and four others complying by court order.

NEW DISTRICTS

The districts starting desegregation this fall for the first time including the home counties of President Lyndon Johnson (Blanco County, Tex.), Mississippi's ex-Gov. Ross Barnett (Leake County), and Virginia Gov. Albert S. Harrison (Brunswick County). Three state capitals are involved in school desegregation: Jackson, Miss.; Montgomery, Ala., and Columbia, S.C. The other capitals had acted in previous years.

Roman Catholic parochial schools in Alabama and Mississippi began formal desegregation programs under orders of the bishop of each diocese. The Roman Catholic Church now has started desegregation programs

URGES RETURN TO FOREIGN POLICY OF IKE

BUTLER, Pa. (AP) — Gov. William Scranton, back in Pennsylvania after a two-day campaign swing through New Jersey and Indiana, urges what he calls the return of the Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policy — strong and peaceful.

"We've had a great deterioration of our foreign policy," Scranton told a Butler County Buckwheat dinner Wednesday night. He said that everytime the present administration issues a statement "things are going to get better—they get worse."

Scranton also issued a plea for election of Republican majorities in the legislature, calling attention to the "solid record of accomplishment" of the Republican state government. He singled out these specific areas:

CITES ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Highways: He said that Republican state government has spent nearly $10 million in highway construction and maintenance in Butler County this year. Scranton added that the county's local communities "participated in the largest payment from the state for local roads" in the history of Pennsylvania.

—Education: Scranton said Butler County school districts will receive about $4.5 million this year, "an increase of 12 per cent over what you got from the last Democratic administration."

—Libraries: State aid to local libraries, Scranton said, has been raised 30 per cent.

—Sewage disposal: State help to local communities for construction of sewage disposal plants, he said, he increased by "a whopping 70 per cent."

—Park development: Scranton praised the development of Moraine State Park, which will include a new $1.8 million dam and a recreational lake of 3,200 acres.

—Employment: The governor said that unemployment in Butler County has decreased more than 100 per cent since his administration took office.

—Industrial development: Scranton cited plans for 13 new plants or plant expansions involving 1,000 jobs.

"On and on," Scranton said,

for its parochial schools in every Southern state.

OTHER AREAS

Two Southern states, Arkansas and North Carolina, reported their first instances of desegregation at the teacher and administrative levels.

Little Rock, Ark., hired its first Negro administrator for the new position of supervisor of elementary education. In North Carolina, the Winston-Salem and Forsyth County system became the first district to desegregate at the teaching level. The newly desegregated Hanes Junior High School opened with a student enrollment about 60 per cent Negro and a faculty of 12 white and seven Negro teachers, under the supervision of a white principal. Teacher desegregation previously had begun in a small number of districts in Florida, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. Another Virginia district, Roanoke, desegregated its teaching staff with the opening of the new school year.

Complete segregation at the level is maintained in Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina.

Pa. Unemployed Total At New Low

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Labor and Industry Department says the number of persons unemployed in Pennsylvania last month totaled 215,000—the lowest since October, 1953, when 203,000 were out of work.

The unemployment rate in mid-September was 4.7 per cent, a drop from 5.2 per cent in mid-August. Not since October, 1956, has the rate been lower. At that time it was 4.6 per cent.

William P. Young, secretary of labor and industry, said the marked decrease in unemployment in September was due to employment gains in a number of industries, notably trade and government. Both areas are affected by the reopening of schools.

AWAIT CHESTER REPORT

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Human Relations Commission says it will make public as soon as possible its decision on the Chester school discrimination dispute. The commission closed out eight days of hearings in Chester Wednesday on charges that egroes do not have equal education opportunities in the city.

"The solid record of accomplishment runs. In every field you can think of, Butler County has benefited from a Republican legislature."

SAYS 1,157 OF HANDICAPPED WERE HELPED

The Harrisburg District Office of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation has a big interest in National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week which will start Sunday.

Thomas P. Lundy, administrator of the Bureau's Harrisburg District Office which covers this area, said:

"Last year 1,157 of the 11,103 handicapped citizens of the state who were vocationally rehabilitated—that is, physically restored, trained and placed in gainful occupations—received such services through this office."

"The need for these services must continue, because Harrisburg District Office now has 4,187 handicapped citizens in various programs or phases of vocational rehabilitation."

COVER THIS SECTION

"For the third successive year Pennsylvania led all other states in the number of persons rehabilitated, indicating the continuous need for this public service in our Commonwealth."

"Employment," Lundy said, "is the ultimate objective of all vocational rehabilitation. So we hope that next week's activities will help to add to the growing number of 'equal opportunity' employees. By this we mean employers willing to examine the State Bureau's records of many thousands of handicapped citizens who are filling all kinds of jobs on an equal basis with able-bodied workers."

LBJ Tries Out SAC Communications Net

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — President Johnson tried out the Strategic Air Command's communications network during his visit in the underground headquarters here Tuesday.

"This is the President. If you can hear me, give me verification," the chief executive said.

His voice was heard at approximately 75 SAC unit command posts throughout North America and in areas of the free world and in dozens of missile launch control centers in the United States, but there was no response.

"That's a one-way conversation," Gen. Thomas S. Power, SAC commander, explained.

"We give commands and they follow orders. They're not interested in talking back."

The Harrisburg District Office of the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation is at Seventh and Forster Streets and may be reached by telephoning 787-5687. It serves Adams, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Perry, Juniata, Lancaster, Lebanon, Mifflin and York Counties.

Secret Service Blamed For Many Shortcomings; May Be Out Of Date Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Secret Service, whose job is protecting presidents, didn't come out of the Warren Commission's investigation smelling like a rose. Anything but.

After it got through investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, the seven-man commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren blamed the Secret Service for a number of shortcomings.

"This agency has had the task of protecting presidents since at least 1902. The picture of it which emerges from the commission's report makes it look imaginative, understaffed and out-of-date."

CALLED "INADEQUATE"

It's no wonder, after reading the commission's criticism, that the Warren group raised this question: Should the Secret Service be further entrusted with protecting presidents or should some other agency be given the job?

The commission called the service "inadequate" — which seems like a mild word under the circumstances — in its advance preparations for Kennedy's trip to Dallas; its plans for identifying and protecting against persons considered threats to a president; its rules for even determining who such persons are; and its plans for detecting an assassin in buildings along the motorcade route taken by the President.

NO SS RECORD

Lee Harvey Oswald, who worked in the Texas School Book Depository which the Kennedy motorcade passed, shot the President from the building's sixth-story window.

The commission implied that the Secret Service precautions were "too largely directed at the 'crank' threat" and not enough toward other individuals or groups which could be considered a source of danger.

Oswald is an example.

Although he had defected to the Soviet Union, then returned, distributed pro-Castro pamphlets, then tried to leave for Cuba and the Soviet Union again, and was investigated by the FBI, the Secret Service had no record of him in Dallas.

How did this happen?

SEEMS UNFAIR

Because the Secret Service's main interest has been in persons making direct threats against the president, the FBI did not send it information on Oswald.

The commission criticized the FBI for not doing so although, to this writer, it seems an unfair criticism, and the commission itself said its conclusion may be "tinged with hindsight."

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, testified before the commission and, after summarizing the bureau's investigative interest in Oswald prior to the assassination, he concluded that:

INCLINED TO VIOLENCE

"There was nothing up to the time of the assassination that gave any indication that this man was a dangerous character who might do harm to the president or vice president."

Oswald had tried to kill former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker — by shooting at him through his window — months before he killed the President, but no one knew of this until after the assassination except Oswald's wife.

It was only after the Warren Commission had made its broad investigation into relatives, friends, neighbors and old acquaintances of Oswald that the information came about his inclination toward violence in childhood, such as chasing his brother with a knife and throwing it at him.

The commission thinks the FBI should have told the Secret Service about Oswald and said it thought both agencies took too narrow a view of their separate responsibilities.

It's questionable that if the Secret Service had learned of Oswald from the FBI — since he had made no threat against Kennedy — it would have thought him dangerous enough, because of its limited manpower, to investigate him.

The commission has called for an overhaul of the Secret Service and more cooperation between investigative government agencies.

ENCEPHALITIS TESTS FOR 25

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—State health officials were conducting laboratory tests today to determine whether some 25 persons in South Jersey have encephalitis.

Two deaths in Camden have been blamed on encephalitis.

A state Health Department spokesman said Wednesday some 25 residents of Camden and Burlington counties are suffering from a disease of the central nervous system resembling encephalitis. But the spokesman said health officials do not believe the cases will be identified as eastern encephalitis.

An outbreak of eastern encephalitis in 1959 caused 21 deaths. The disease is transmitted by mosquitoes.

Dr. Robert L. Breckenridge, pathologist and director of laboratories at Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital in Camden, said his laboratory reports indicate two Camden area women died of acute encephalitis. He said the state would have to confirm the hospital's finding.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — All at once it is different.

Gee, it isn't like it used to be. Whatever happened to old-fashioned fun?

The fellows who used to hang around the corner don't have the same old languor. Something has happened and I don't quite know why.

I guess it's a mistake to ask too much of today or tomorrow and want it to be like yesterday. Because you can demand and demand, but that isn't the way it's going to be.

OLD DAYS ARE GONE

Yesterday can never quite come back.

Yesterday had more starch in its shirtfront and more buttons up its back.

Yesterday wore a walrus mustache without looking like a brush salesman.

Yesterday could look dignified in long woolen underwear while it yawned about what it had done today and ordered the womenfolk to do better tomorrow.

MARKS OF CHANGE

I miss those dear old-fashioned days.

Then you could rent a rig and take your best girl out and come back with unforgettable memories of her dear hand upon your knee.

Yesterday could buy fine bean soup for a dime a bowl.

Yesterday when they asked you in, the womenfolk would spend hours baking and cooking beforehand. Now they get a bruised finger ringing up the delicatessen fellow to ask him to bring something and drop nothing on the way.

MANY CHANGES

Yesterday it was an emblem of freedom and respect if you went to work in a white shirt. Now you can make more money in a dutiful blue.

Yesterday more people in America could milk a cow than drive a car. Then mules outnumbered tractors and if you wanted to keep daylight within you, well — you avoided their heels.

Yesterday people hated to be

LIFTS BAN ON FIRES IN PARKS

HARRISBURG (AP) —Dr. Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of forests and waters, says a ban on fires in fireplaces in state parks has been lifted.

Goddard said recent rains have eased the drought situation and decreased the chances of serious forest fires. He held out the possibility that the restriction would be reinstated if there should be a marked increase in fires.

The secretary said he did not intend to ask Gov. Scranton for a proclamation postponing the archery season scheduled to open Saturday. His statement indicated that such action had been contemplated.

"This rain is certainly welcome, but we can easily have fires in a few dry days, especially when accompanied by the normal seasonal fall of leaves," Goddard said. "We are, however, willing to put the hunters and the state park users on their honor so that no fires result from their visits to the woods."

DIESEL DERAILED

BERLIN, N.J. (AP)—A diesel engine locomotive of a nine-car train bound from Philadelphia to the Atlantic City Race Track was derailed near here Wednesday and delayed for more than an hour.

None of the 450 passengers was injured, a Pennsylvania Railroad spokesman said.

About 100 fans who didn't want to miss the daily double left the train after the mishap and walked several blocks to the White Horse Pike to hitch a ride the rest of the way to the track.

apart. Now they can't stand to be together.

Yesterday a fellow said, "Show me — I'm from Missouri." Now he says, "Yeah, it must be so — I think I saw it on television somewhere."

Whatever happened to old-fashioned fun? Why, that's simple. It just couldn't stand the pace. All tucked out, it quietly left the scene, too out of breath to say goodbye.

And the new-fashioned fun? It screams "Hello!" but it remains a stranger. Perhaps one time of fun is enough for a lifetime.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE REV. JOHN CUTHBERTSON

The historical and genealogical study of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Churchyard is continued at this time with some random notes.

Among the old burials in this graveyard are those of many persons about whom nothing is known. In this category are numbered the following:-

1. "Here lyes ye body of — Francis Alexander — who departed this life — August ye 4th 1760 — Aged 76 years." — And likewise the body of — his wife Jean Alexander — Died July 12, 1771 — aged 77."

2. "In memory of — William Alexander — son of William and L. Alexander — Died September 14, 1836 — aged 2 years."

In the files of the "Adams Centinel" (later the "Star and Sentinel") only two items pertaining to the Alexander family are to be found — under the dates given:-

1. Wednesday, June 20, 1810 — "Departed this life, on Friday, June 15th, 1810, of consumption, Mr. William Alexander, only son of Mr. Robert Alexander, of Menallen Township, this County. This boy had not yet arrived at full Manhood."

2. Wednesday, March 20, 1811 — "Married, March 19th, 1811, by the Rev. Mr. Amos A. McGinley, of this County, Mr. E. McGinley to Miss Margaret Alexander, the daughter of William Alexander, Esq., of Franklin County, Pennsylvania."

Note: — From the above it would appear that the Alexanders, of the Marsh Creek Settlement, left what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania, early in the nineteenth century to follow the "western star." No additional data pertaining to them is to be found in the county records after 1836.

After the Alexander clan the Andrew family and they have two marked graves — both those of children — in Lower Marsh Creek —

3. "In memory of — Lilly Florence Andrew — Died February 20th, 1854 — Aged 2 years."

4. "In memory of — Julian Donaldson Andrew — daughter of Joseph and E. C. Andrew — Died June 29th, 1861 — Aged 5 years."

Note: — Nothing is known, at this time, pertaining to the Andrew family. There may be other graves in Lower Marsh Creek burial ground belonging to this clan but if so they were either never designated by markers or else the stones have disappeared.

At this time, in answer to requests from readers of this column a somewhat sketchy biography of the Rev. John Cuthbertson, of the Associate Reformed Church (Presbyterian), who "rode" the frontier settlements, over a period of many years is given. It is to be hoped that it will answer, at least in part, the majority of the questions asked pertaining to this hard-working minister.

Among the most valuable of the documents pertaining to the genealogy of the early settlers on the "far western frontier" is the diary of the Rev. John Cuthbertson. This little book contains the records of the work and travels of a minister, who considered himself a "man under authority" — designated to serve the people of a far-flung parish under all circumstances — no matter what conditions prevailed. In the fulfillment of his duties the Rev. John Cuthbertson journeyed over the hills and valleys of Pennsylvania from the Delaware to the Ohio. There was hardly a frontier settlement that was not visited by him, and in which he did not advise, baptize, marry, and bury, those who were in need of his services. His ministry covers the entire period of the early history of the Cumberland Valley from 1751 to 1790. During this time the Rev. Mr. Cuthbertson travelled 69,255 miles, mostly on horseback, preached 2,452 days, baptized 2,452 children and married 240 couples. Many of the names recorded in his diary are the ancestors of many of the families now living in various parts of the United States.

The Rev. Mr. Cuthbertson, who travelled over the entire frontier of Pennsylvania during the troublesome times of the French and Indian Wars, and all during the long years of the American Revolution, had little to say of conditions he had to face or of the trying times through which the young nation was passing. He ministered to the people — they were his chief concern and he recorded very little about any of the events, both great and small, which were happening. He desired only to do the work — serving his Lord and Master — which took all of his time and energy. It might well be said that John Cuthbertson had a "one track mind."

During the harrowing time which followed the defeat of General Edward Braddock, in 1755, make more entries about what was taking place in the Big Cove, at Carlisle, Shippensburg, and other places during these years when the frontier along the Kittatinny Mountains was almost blotted out by the Indian John Cuthbertson seemed to be utterly blind to anything and everything not in line with his mission. The value of his diary consists in the thousands of names which are recorded and in the location of the homes of the people living in the Cumberland Valley and elsewhere, from 1751 to 1790.

Because he put his ministry above all else the Rev. John Cuthbertson, as a man, formed a background picture. He was sent to America, by the Reformed Presbyterian Church of Scotland, in 1751. He arrived at New Castle, Delaware, on August 5, 1751, after a voyage of some 46 days from Derry Lock. On August 19, 1751, he preached at Middle Octorara, Lancaster County, Pa. He labored at this place, from which he made all of his missionary journeys, until his death in 1791.

These notes will be continued in this column next week.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some 200 college student leaders, many of them presidents of student bodies, have been invited to a buffet supper and reception at the White House Saturday evening with President and Mrs. Johnson.

The President, a onetime ing renovated in a $1.3 million program. They will be leased back to the railroad for use on Passenger Service Improvement Corp., and Southeastern Transportation Compact commuter lines.

Texas school teacher, previously honored outstanding high school pupils at a comparable White House party.

The White House did not release the names of the students who were invited Saturday.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Tuesday Congress could adjourn by the end of the week if the House would drop the Appalachia bill — an administration-backed antipoverty measure he opposes.

Dirksen said House Democrats have neither enough members on hand to pass the bill nor a majority favoring it.

Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., countered that the Appalachia aid measure is "still on the agenda" and said he doesn't think there is much chance of Congress finishing this week.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The number of civilians working for the government rose 3,543 in August to a total of 2,495,604, a Senate committee reports.

The monthly report of the committee noted the Post Office Department reported the largest increase in employees among executive agencies with 5,131. Interior Department led in the number of decreases with 1,577. Other departments with lesser decreases included Treasury with 648, Veterans Administration 611, and Agriculture 575.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed Monday night and sent to a conference with the House a bill to boost some veterans pensions.

The bill had been approved by the Senate last Friday, but Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., won reconsideration after he said the Bureau of the Budget was concerned about an amendment to give all veterans at 65 an automatic 10 per cent disability rating and a pension if they are within the income limits.

In its second look at the bill the Senate struck the automatic disability amendment. Pensions would be liberalized $5 to $10 in some lower brackets and income eligibility rules for spouses would be eased.

BOBBY BAKER HEARING WILL REOPEN TODAY

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The once-closed Bobby Baker hearings reopen today for investigation of a Republican senator's charge of a $35,000 political payoff on the District of Columbia Stadium contract.

Key figures in the probe are Baker, resigned secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority; Matthew McCloskey, Philadelphia contractor, Democratic fund raiser, and former ambassador to Ireland; and Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance agent.

Instead of plunging into the payoff charge, the Senate Rules Committee called district officials for testimony about details of the stadium project, the letting of bids, subsequent changes in the contract and related matters.

SEEK ALL DETAILS

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., the committee chairman, told newsmen "it may be some time" before Baker, McCloskey and Reynolds are called to testify.

He said he plans first to lay the groundwork by bringing out all the details of the stadium contract, awarded to McCloskey's firm in 1960 after it submitted a low bid of around $14.2 million.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., charged in a Senate speech a month ago that McCloskey made an overpayment of about $35,000 to Reynolds as insurance broker on the performance bond for the stadium.

Williams quoted Reynolds as telling him that $25,000 of this was funneled into the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund through Baker. Williams referred to the alleged overpayment on the bond premium as a payoff and a kickback.

ORDERS FBI PROBE

President Johnson, with whom Baker was closely associated when Johnson was the Democratic leader of the Senate, ordered an investigation by the FBI. McCloskey issued a statement saying he had paid the exact amount for which he was billed by Reynolds.

Williams' charge set off a demand from Republicans for a reopening of the investigation into Baker's multiple dealings financial and business outside before he resigned under fire last Oct. 7 from his $19,600-a-year Senate post.

The Rules Committee's Democratic majority had closed the hearings last spring amid GOP charges of whitewash and cover-up — charges that Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater has stressed in his election campaign.

LIST LOW BIDS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Central State Authority says it has received unofficial low bids totaling $675,793 for conversion of four classroom buildings at Pennsylvania State University to other uses.

The buildings—Armstrong, Patterson, McAllister and Weaver—will be renovated to provide for administrative and research space, the GSA said Wednesday.

AIR FORCE MUM ON NEW FACTS OF SUPER CRAFT

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force unveiled its new YF12A interceptor Wednesday, with much fanfare but few facts.

The huge black bomber-killer—twice the size of the F104 fighter sitting beside it on the runway—is reportedly capable of 2,200 miles an hour and 100,000 feet altitude.

At a briefing and flight demonstration for newsmen, however, the Air Force would not go beyond the performance figures given by President Johnson when he announced the new plane last February: over 2,000 m.p.h. and over 70,000 feet.

ADDITIONAL SPEED

Only hint of the new plane's performance was disclosure that it was capable of more than 2,000 m.p.h. for long periods of time, indicating it can reach higher speeds with short bursts of power from its two 40,000-pound thrust engines.

A spokesman said Arizona-based YF12A's could intercept bombers attacking from the north before they could cross Canada.

MISSILE CARRIER

The Air Force also disclosed a few details about a new radar-guided missile carried inside the twin-tailed monster's 90-foot-long fuselage.

Called AIM 4—the initials stand for Air Intercept Missile—the 12½-foot-long rocket has a speed of 2,000 m.p.h. This added to the plane's speed, gives the rocket a striking velocity of 4,000 m.p.h., or six times the speed of sound.

It carries either a conventional or a nuclear warhead and is guided over long distances by the interceptor's own radar.

A spokesman said the YF12A, which carries both a pilot and a fire control officer, has been under development by the Air Force as an interceptor since 1959.

Uses Sales Tax To Push Opponents

ROME (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro's government converted a disputed decree boosting Italy's sales tax into a parliamentary bill Wednesday night to force balking legislators to act on the measure.

Moro received a setback last week when the Senate approved a Communist motion halting discussion of the decree raising the tax from 3.3 per cent to 4 per cent. Parliament's approval is needed by Nov. 1 to prevent its expiration.

Pledges To Fight Road Billboards

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer said Wednesday night a bill banning signs within 660 feet of the rights of way of limited-access highways will be reintroduced early next year.

Shafer made the pledge at the silver anniversary dinner of the Pennsylvania Roadside Council. His promise put him in a political position of granting a request from his constituency even as it was being sought.

The council had presented Shafer a petition bearing 100,000 signatures asking for just such action.

Shafer explained that the 1963 effort to secure such a ban failed because the measure was introduced only two weeks before the legislature quit.

If enacted, Shafer said, the new bill would eliminate loopholes in the 1961 act by including all limited-access roads—not just interstates—and by including rights of way acquired prior to 1956. This last provision would ban billboards along the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Rejects "Clean Election" Plan

HARRISBURG (AP) — Genevieve Blatt, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, has turned down a proposal by her Republican opponent that the two kick in $3,233.46 apiece to "help assure a clean election in Philadelphia next month."

The money, said Republican Sen. Hugh Scott in a letter to Miss Blatt Wednesday, would be turned over to the "Committee of Seventy," a nonpartisan "watchdog" group supported by private funds.

Enclosed in the letter was a check for Scott's half of the payment. Miss Blatt was to match it and turn it over to the committee.

In rejecting the proposal, she called it "little more than a political stunt, rather than any genuine desire for clean statewide elections."

DANNY KAYE SHOW IS BACK FOR SEASON

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — One of television's happiest hours of last season is back and, judging from Wednesday night's show, with its humor and spirit intact. "The Danny Kaye Show" on CBS has its ups and downs but when the enchanting Kaye is around, even the downs are worth watching.

The show, second of the new season's batch, was not one of the memorable ones. Perhaps it was partly because Phil Silvers, his guest star, is a brash, aggressive comic with a style that doesn't mix too well with Kaye's gentler, more whimsical approach. Partly, too, it started off badly with a messy sketch about a dog-tired man — Kaye with an intolerable neighbor — Silvers — and nobody seemed to know how to wind it up.

ANOTHER NEW SHOW
Things picked up with a couple of songs by Barbara McNair, and a disinfected simulation of an old-time burlesque show. Kay's best moments were during his informal chat at the end.

This viewer was busy battling a virus last week when "The Cara Williams Show" had its CBS premiere, but the second installment Wednesday night suggested that it will be just another of those broadly comic husband-and-wife series. The gimmick of the show is that she and her husband, played by Frank Aletter, are employed by a company which rigidly prohibits intracompany marriages and hence they are trying to keep a big secret. Wednesday night this led to a surprise party by fellow workers which in turn led to some nonsense involving a live lobster.

Recommended tonight: "Perry Mason," CBS, 8-9 EDT — another in the long-playing series starring Raymond Burr as the indomitable lawyer; "Be-witched," ABC, 9-9:30 — comedy fantasy about a pretty enchantress married to a mere mortal; "Suspense Theater," NBC, 10-11 — starting its second season with a drama starring Sal Mineo and Albert Dekker.

MISS BLATT IS IN WESTERN PA.

INDIANA, Pa. (AP) — Local government officials are the people best qualified to modernize local government operations, Genevieve Blatt said today.

"Too many of our communities are bogged down by old problems for which the old solutions simply will not serve any more," Miss Blatt, the Democratic candidate for U.S. senator, said from remarks prepared for the annual convention of the Indiana County Township Officers.

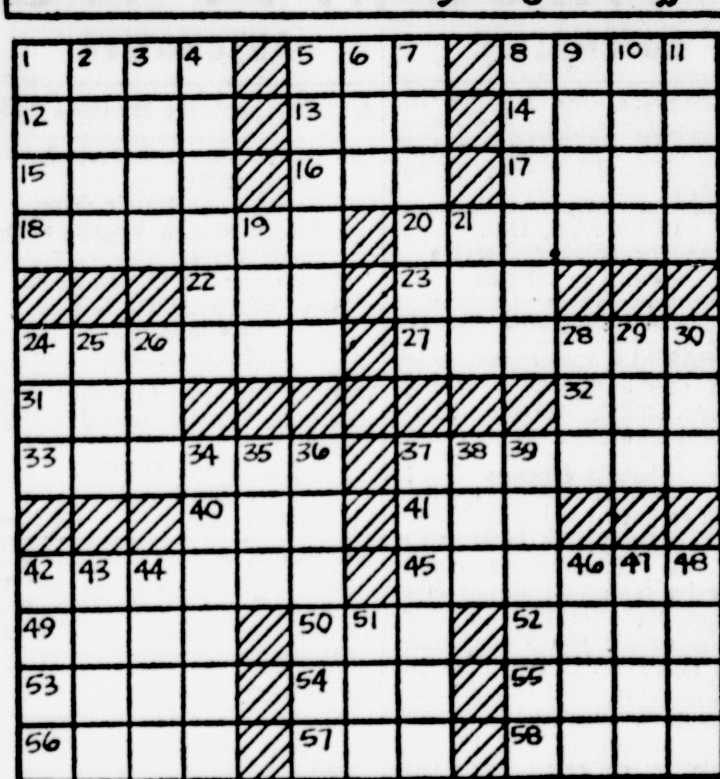

"To come up with the solutions to these problems, Miss Blatt said:

"Somebody—and it ought to be you men and women who head up the local governments—will have to be the spark plugs which will ignite the local government engines."

"You will have to propose and apply the new solutions which will get these old problems out of the way and enable us to get on with facing the new problems."

Miss Blatt was in her second day of campaigning in Western Pennsylvania.

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has just shown the huge gap in the very best precautions for guarding a president's life unless the chief executive decides to live and operate in seclusion.

The Warren Commission over the weekend, in its report on President John F. Kennedy's assassination, made a number of recommendations to give a president better protection from killers in the future.

The commission, recognizing the reality of politics and the many roles of a president in American life, admitted:

"IMMENSELY DIFFICULT" — "Exposure of the president to public view through travel among the people of this country is a great and historic tradition of American life" but "the protection of the president... is an immensely difficult and complex task."

"It is unlikely that measures can be devised to eliminate entirely the multitude of diverse dangers that may arise, particularly when the president is traveling in this country or abroad."

Nixon Boored For Booming Keating

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon drew boos and catcalls from an audience of more than 2,000 Republicans at a rally on Wednesday night every time he urged support for re-election of Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, who has refused to endorse Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential candidate.

The booring at the Long Island rally began when Leonard Hall, former GOP national chairman, urged the crowd to give Goldwater "a real working arm in the U.S. Senate in Ken Keating."

Hall made the plea in introducing Nixon at the meeting sponsored by the Nassau County Republican Committee. Hall is an adviser in the Goldwater campaign.

Keating, who is backed by the Republican state organization, has been endorsed by Goldwater.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's $1,000-a-plate dinner in San Francisco Oct. 9 is offering a bargain rate.

The Republican presidential candidate's fund-raising affair will seat a man and his wife for $1,500, Goldwater's headquarters announced.

Hospital Needs Extra Caution

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Two Illinois men born the same year with the same name are recovering in the same hospital room from the same type of surgery performed by the same doctor.

William L. Lynch of Havana and William E. Lynch of Peoria, both 81 and retired, are recovering from urological surgery at St. Francis Hospital.

The namesakes had never met before they were inadvertently assigned to hospital Room 245.

Government Cuts Support On 38 Brands Of Poor Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has announced a list of 38 "undesirable" varieties of wheat which will be discounted next year under its price support program. They are described as inferior for milling and baking.

This list was issued several weeks after farmers started planning winter wheat for harvest next year. The unwanted varieties are the same as those which were subject to price support discount under the 1964 support program.

Any wheat of these varieties offered by growers for storage under price support loans will be subject to a discount of 20 cents a bushel. The 165 support rate will average $1.25 a bushel. In invoking the discount, the department says it is backing action of crop improvement associations to improve the quality of U.S. wheat.

FARM RELATED JOBS

The Agriculture Department is broadening its concept of American agriculture.

Assistant Secretary John A. Baker said in a talk prepared for a national conference on rural education.

"You undoubtedly have heard it said that only 10 per cent of the boys now growing up on farms can expect to become farmers. But this is talking about agriculture in a limited sense — the production of food and fiber.

"It does not take into account the growing opportunities in agricultural occupations outside farming—such as jobs in manufacturing, processing, marketing and selling farm products.

"In our automated, urbanized, space-exploring society of today 35 to 40 per cent of the jobs in this nation are still in or related to agriculture. And this does not include the growing opportunities of producing an important new crop—outdoor recreation."

EXPORT SUPPLIER

The Agriculture Department reported today it continues to be the major supplier of wheat for domestic milling and for export.

That's because, a grain market report said, farmers' offerings of new crop wheat were

Says Forest Fire Threat Is Reduced

HARRISBURG (AP) — State forest officials are generally pleased with the rain that has fallen in Pennsylvania for the past three days, because it has reduced substantially the threat of forest fires.

"This is just about what we've been praying for," said Eugene F. McNamara, assistant chief of the division of forest protection in the State Forests and Waters Department.

"The edge has been taken off the dangerous situation that existed last Friday and Saturday," he explained in an interview Tuesday.

McNamara said the eastern half of the Commonwealth—particularly the southeast where the fire danger was most severe—profited most from the long-awaited rainfall.

Over $3 Million In Racing Taxes

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Revenue Department says it has collected $3,246,685 in taxes in 132 days of harness racing in Pennsylvania this year.

The revenue was the result of 32 days of racing by the William Penn Racing Association, Philadelphia, and 50 days each by Liberty Bell Racing Association, Philadelphia, and the Meadows Park in Washington County.

William Penn, which uses the Liberty Bell Track, has produced $982,293 in taxes thus far, according to department statistics released Monday. The meeting there is incomplete.

"limited as farm selling continued tight." Growers are holding for possible higher prices. Yet, under its sales policy, the department is offering government-owned surplus wheat at prices less than those sought by many farmers.

Government sales since July 1, the beginning of the 1964-crop sales year, totaled 104 million bushels compared with 66 million bushels in the like period last year.

"TRUTH" SHOW RETURNS WITH SAME FACES

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "To Tell the Truth," a Monday night fixture on CBS, Monday night produced a standby team of contestants which has attended every taping of the evening show for the past four years — 207 performances — without every being called upon for emergency duty.

The team consisted of a monkey-house keeper in a zoo and two well-coached and convincing liars and all were discharged with thanks. Their long service, however, pointed up the fact that this good-humored low-key game program has been quietly perking along for a lot longer than many of the bigger, noisier, more elaborate television shows.

The panel usually consists of two who were with the show almost from the outset, Tom Poston, an engaging and quick-witted young man, and Kitty Carlisle, whose handsome clothes add something extra for women viewers; Peggy Cass, a funny, bright woman with an enormous fund of off-beat information, and Orson Bean, the panel's naughty boy but often a little too cute and windy.

REPORT RATING

The Miss America pageant on CBS earlier this month turned up at the top of the Nielsen list of popular programs. This is an annual phenomenon. The rating service estimated that more than 21 million homes were watching Vonda Van Dyke weep at the happy news. "Beverly Hillsbillies" and "Bonanza" were second and third. Only one new program made the Nielsen honor roll — NBC's "The Rogues," in seventh place.

Lucille Ball has persuaded screen star Jean Arthur, long in retirement, to guest-star in an episode of her comedy show. The series will use more guest

CIVIL RIGHTS FOE WILL FACE COURT CHARGE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A contempt proceeding brought against Lester Maddox after he refused to serve Negroes at a newly opened cafeteria was called a mistake by the Atlanta segregationist.

Maddox, enjoined from operating a segregated restaurant, opened a cafeteria in the same building Saturday. He barred four Negroes from the cafeteria Monday, the same Negroes he refused to serve at the Pickrick Restaurant.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank A. Hooper signed an order a few hours after the incident, requiring Maddox to appear Oct. 2 and show cause why he should not be held in contempt.

"I think it is a mistake on the part of civil rights agitators and their attorneys," Maddox said of the contempt proceedings.

"The Lester Maddox Cafeteria is not an agent of Pickrick, Inc.," Maddox said. "The cafeteria has signs saying we do not offer service to interstate travelers. We removed Pickrick signs from the highway. "I don't see any connection between the Lester Maddox Cafeteria and Pickrick, Inc., which was involved in the court decision.

"We just don't serve integrationists, whether they are black, yellow or white."

In the case of the Pickrick restaurant, Maddox, his heirs or successors were enjoined by a federal court from discriminating against Negroes. Maddox closed the Pickrick rather than integrate.

Maddox met the four Negroes at the door Monday and shoved them back toward the sidewalk. "We're not going to integrate," he said. "They ought to know that by now."

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Why? The great unanswered question in the report of the Warren Commission — which had just concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald killed President John F. Kennedy — is why he did it.

The seven-man commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, after almost 10 months of investigation and with the help of all the resources of government, admits it couldn't learn Oswald's reason for the assassination.

Since Oswald died two days after the assassination — killed by Jack Ruby — the commission also admits it can't even say honestly whether Oswald was insane.

TO REMAIN ENIGMA

So Oswald's motive will probably remain one of the most baffling enigmas of history, which would probably make Oswald happy if he knew it.

That's because the commission did offer this opinion: that Oswald's apparent desire "for a place in history" led the seven men "to believe that such concern is an important factor to consider in assessing possible motivation for the assassination."

Yet, when the commission's report — about 20 volumes of testimony, interviews and evidence — is all made public, Oswald will emerge as one of the shabbiest little men in history.

LIAR AND CRYBABY

He was a liar. He was pretentious. He was a crybaby. And, if the truth were known, his attempts at murder may have been a perverted way of seeking his own destruction.

The commission raises this question about Oswald, who was "plagued all his life" by feelings of defeat and mediocrity: Did he really want to escape after committing a great crime?

Seven months before he killed the President, Oswald tried to assassinate former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker by shooting at him through the window of his home. He missed.

LEFT MONEY BEHIND

But before he went to Walker's house he left in his home a notebook full of his plans for shooting the general, plus pictures of himself with a rifle and revolver.

If he had killed Walker and been captured, his home certainly would have been searched. Those notes would have been dreadfully incriminating.

The morning of the day on which he shot Kennedy he left $170 at home and took only $13.87 with him, certainly not enough to carry him very far if he wanted to escape from Dallas.

NEGLECTED CHILDHOOD

He had a neglected childhood — his father died before he was born and his mother for long stretches had to work, leaving him with friends or relatives or putting him in a home — but he had a sense of weapons and violence from childhood.

When he was 3 he threw a toy gun at a woman taking care of him. When he was 9 he chased his brother with a knife and threw it at him. At 12, the commission says, he had "fantasies about being all powerful and killing."

At 13 he drew a knife and threatened to use it on his sister-in-law. At 16 he talked of breaking into a store to steal a gun and said he would like to kill President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

JOINED MARINES

After he joined the Marines he accidentally shot himself with a pistol he had sneaked into his locker against regulations. He was court-martialed. When he went to the Soviet Union at 20 and was refused citizenship, he cut his wrist. He beat his wife, hit his mother, tried to kill Walker and did kill Kennedy.

He criticized how the world was run, considering both communism and capitalism failures, but he was a failure in the jobs he held in the Soviet Union and the United States, and had trouble holding them. He was fired from more than one.

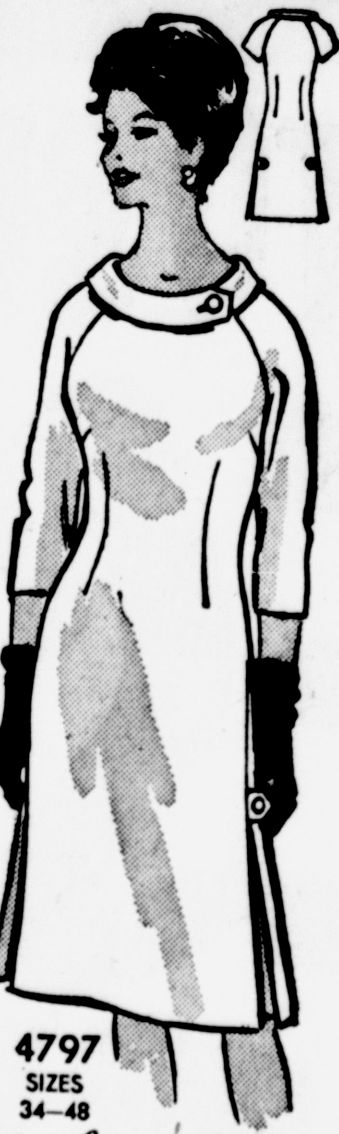

In the Soviet Union he was a metal worker but the foreman thought he was careless and lacked initiative. He quit two jobs in Texas within five months, one of them after one day. He was fired from two jobs because he couldn't make the grade.

RESENTED CHARITY

He ridiculed others but lied endlessly about himself, giving false names, false information to employers, deceiving his wife, and even lying about the kind of job he held because he thought he should be doing a better one.

With his killings — but he lied about the two deeds that will keep him remembered: the killing of Kennedy and a Dallas policeman, Officer J. D. Tippit. He tried to act the self-sufficient made and resented charity.

CAROLYN HAGNER SHAW is publisher of the list, known as the "Green Door" because of its green suede cover. Although Robert F. Kennedy resigned as attorney general to run as Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate from New York, Mrs. Shaw said, he still maintains a home in suburban McLean, Va.

Mrs. Kennedy has left her home in Georgetown to reside in New York.

If beavers did not wear down the incisors by gnawing wood, these fast-growing teeth would prop their mouths open.

for his family, but he accepted it. He was full of self-pity about his life and hard times but wouldn't work hard enough or learn enough to have a better life.

ANY OTHER VICTIMS?

He was full of contradictions: he deserted the United States for the Soviet Union, then the Soviet Union for the United States. He posed as an anti-Castroite and four days later distributed pro-Castro leaflets.

He pretended to be a brain but spelled like a child. At 20 he claimed to have been studying communism and socialism but when asked to name the books he had read he came up with only one: "Das Kapital" by Karl Marx.

And, of course, there is one question which will never be answered and which the Warren Commission didn't touch on: Did Oswald in his violent life ever kill anyone else?

ORDER YOUTHS TO FIELD JOBS, GET OFF RELIEF

By DIAL TORGERSON
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles County relief program has been ordered altered to include this proviso: "Work — or get off relief."

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, which ordered the welfare changes Tuesday, even has a type of work in mind: field hand labor.

Such work on California farms is now done mostly by Mexican nationals imported for the purpose under the state's bracero program.

PLAN FAILS
Efforts to induce unemployed persons to take over the work — most of it so-called stoop labor, at $1.00 to $1.25 an hour — have failed. The bracero program ends Dec. 31.

Supervisor Ernest E. Debs said: "We have a lot of able-bodied boys on the relief program. They will not go to school or learn a trade. It seems about time to say: 'Either work or you will not get food.'"

The supervisors enacted a five-point program which brought varying opinions from state and labor officials. A state official said the plan sounded legal. A labor spokesman expressed doubts.

Supervisor Kenneth Kahn estimated Los Angeles County will have 30,000 unemployed youths available to take over the bracero jobs when the labor-importation plan expires Dec. 31.

The supervisors said the new regulations would make these requirements of employers hiring from relief rolls:

1. That adequate sanitary facilities and other acceptable employment conditions be provided.

2. That the minimum wage be at least $1.25.

3. That, if possible, steady employment should be provided.

4. Adequate transportation shall be provided to the farms.

5. Recipients of public assistance will not be required to work under unusual circumstances, such as illness or other difficult conditions in their families.

Gets Radio Music On Electric Organ

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — It's no laughing matter when Melvin Berg sits down to his electric organ and a radio program comes out.

Berg says ever since the family moved into a new home two months ago the organ, which he has had for years, started picking up radio stations, some as far away as San Francisco.

Experts have been unable to find the trouble. Sometimes the loud music is soft; sometimes loud.

Some Experts Fear Heavy Loans And Mortgages May Run Into A "Double Play"

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The ads and commercials keep telling you how easy it is to borrow. But some of the managers of the nation's monetary and credit systems are getting uneasy about the chance that the mounting volume of loans and mortgages might run into a double play.

Specifically: Some bad risks are popping up because of overzealous lenders and overconfident borrowers.

This uneasiness among the monetary authorities is tied right now to fear that the growing optimism about business in general could lead to overextension by both business men and consumers.

FORECLOSURES

And these authorities are citing increasing mortgage foreclosures and some growth in volume of delinquent bills.

Monetary managers are by nature a cautious lot. And despite their fretting, Americans by and large have handled the swelling volume of personal debt with a minimum of individual disasters.

The majority doubtless will continue along a fairly prudent course.

It's the fringe risks that the authorities are worried about — the ones now getting into trouble and the ones that could if businessmen and consumers grow overconfident because the current business upturn appears to them to be endless.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board reports that foreclosures on home mortgages have been rising. The rate per 1,000 loans advanced was 1.38 in the three months ended June 30, compared with 1.24 a year earlier.

For a 12-month period this brought the rate to 5.24 per 1,000 loans outstanding, compared with 4.76 for the 12 months ended June 30, 1963.

HOIST WARNINGS

Chairman Joseph W. Barr of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., says that the increasing volume of mortgage credit outstanding and the easing of terms in many regions is cause enough for the hoisting of warning signals.

He proposes that next year the Congress take a new look at the entire credit situation.

The vice chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, C. Canby Balderston, says the quality of credit can be maintained at the present rate of lending if bankers and other financial institutions keep a sharp eye on it. But he also warns of the high potential for unsound extensions of credit to businessmen or consumers who overrate their future financial prospects.

He urged particular caution in

Going To Be Less Costly On Trains

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is reducing its one-way passenger coach fares by 31 per cent on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, effective Oct. 25. It made a similar reduction in first-class fares last April.

"This is, frankly, the start of a frontal attack by B&O on the private automobile, which has taken over 85 per cent of intercity travel in this country," said Paul H. Reistrup, director of B&O's passenger service.

"In most cases, it will now be even cheaper to ride a B&O train than to drive the family car," Reistrup said.

Delay Mailing Of Phils' Series Ducats

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies, whose plans for the World Series were slightly dampened by a nine-loss slump into third place in the National League, have postponed mailing out series tickets.

The Phils, who had a 6½-game lead on Sept. 20, were the first National League team authorized to print World Series tickets this year. They planned on mailing them out Tuesday or today.

Now that the pennant seems to be eluding the Phils, the ticket-mailing has been put off at least until Thursday.

Mexican Named Law School Dean

NEW YORK (AP) — Miguel de Capriles came to the United States from Mexico when he was 13 years old. He didn't speak English and didn't know how to fence.

Now 57, he is dean of New York University Law School and president of the World Fencing Federation. His appointment as dean came Monday. Today he leaves for Tokyo to supervise the Olympic fencing tournament.

helping individuals increase their home mortgages to raise money for household equipment or vacation travel.

Balderston points out another trend, the large growth in the debt of unincorporated businesses such as proprietorships and partnerships. He says that despite some rise in the bad debt losses from such loans, the trend so far is being kept in reasonable bounds. But he urges bankers to make sure of the financial health of businessmen seeking such loans.

GROUP RENEWS EQUAL HOUSING PLAN IN STATE

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state Human Relations Commission has reaffirmed the right of all citizens, regardless of race, color or creed, to have equal opportunity in the area of private housing.

In a policy statement outlining its position on housing accommodations, the commission said:

"The builders, developers, sellers, financiers, managers, operators and owners of housing accommodations have the responsibility to market and make available (public) housing in a manner which allows all individuals to fully exercise that opportunity assured by law."

1. Producers of housing should agree among themselves to operate on an open occupancy basis, thus reducing the probability of any one being put in an advantageous competitive position through engaging in unfair housing practices.

2. "Unfounded fears, false rumors and misinformation are responsible for a considerable amount of the reluctance to observe fair practices in the housing market. The housing industry in its own interest should actively cooperate in the dissemination of factual information to members of its own industry and to the consumer public."

3. Personnel of housing and financing firms should be thoroughly instructed in how to deal impartially with the public, including special training for serving minority groups.

4. Housing firms should employ

Boy, 17, Is Held In Man's Slaying

ELKINS PARK, Pa. (AP) — A 17-year-old boy is being held without bail for grand jury action, charged with killing his stepfather after a quarrel one week ago.

Michael Margolin remained silent at a hearing before Cheltenham Township justice of the peace John A. Frank Monday, as testimony indicated that 46-year-old Herman Dorfman had died from a blow on the head.

Dorfman died in Abington Memorial Hospital Sept. 23, two hours after a quarrel in his home (at 7809 Spring Ave.).

Margolin was admitted to the hospital with head injuries that night, and was released only Monday.

play qualified minority group persons in sales and administrative capacities.

5. To create a better informed consumer public, real estate firms should cooperate with the commission by distributing pertinent information concerning the fair housing law to the public.

6. Housing industry associations should endorse open occupancy housing through resolutions or policy statements.

QUADS' MOTHER HAD FERTILITY DRUG DOSES

NEW YORK (AP) — The mother of quadruplets born here last year had been treated with an experimental fertility drug after six childless years of marriage, it was disclosed Wednesday.

A spokesman for the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center said that Mrs. Martin Brecker of Queens was among 21 women to whom the drug, Pergonal, was administered at the center's fertility clinic.

Last Oct. 23, Mrs. Brecker gave birth to three girls and a boy—Lisa, Jodi, Allison and John.

Of the 21 patients, 15 became pregnant and of the others who have given birth so far, three had single babies and three had twins, the hospital said.

MANY TWINS
The spokesman said that other American medical researchers using the drug, which contains human hormones, also report a high incidence of twins. Swedish scientists, also using it,

DEATHS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Albert H. Ely, 70, a director of Moral Re-Armament and a representative of the movement for more than 30 years in Africa, Latin America, Europe and Australia, died Monday. He had practiced law in New York and Washington.

MIAMI, Okla. (AP) — Clara May Dopking, 79, mother of Alva N. Dopking, bureau chief of The Associated Press at Columbus, Ohio, died Tuesday.

Mrs. Dopking, a native of Kansas, moved to Oklahoma in 1895 and had lived in Miami for 46 years.

report many multiple births, including one set of stillborn septuplets.

The drug was discovered in Italy. Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif., holds the U.S. patent and was quoted as saying an application is pending before the U.S. Food and Drug Administration for permission to market it.

The Columbia-Presbyterian spokesman said that the research here has been extremely careful because the drug can be dangerous. Up to now, the drug has been administered only at hospitals under strict supervision.

No Stenographers, Hence No Meeting

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Kenya's Senate met again Tuesday after a 25-day adjournment caused by a lack of stenotypists. It adjourned when its three British stenotypists resigned — one to join her boyfriend in South Africa and two to get married.

"No stenotypists, no record, therefore no Senate," the speaker decided.

Clerk L. Ngugi arranged for one high-speed shorthand typist and three tape recorders to do the work. And 12 African girls are taking a crash course in stenotypy.

Space Scientist Lauds Moon Plan

MOBILE, Ala. (A) — Dr. Werner von Braun, the space scientist, says that "when our astronauts land on the moon, it will demonstrate our ability to sail on this new ocean."

He said Monday that the United States chose to go to the moon because "its exploration involves every facet of the overall space capability which this nation must develop if we are to be the world's leading seafaring nation."

Pay Television Lagging; Drop 143 Salesmen; Can't Acquire Brand New Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How goes Subscription Television?

Not well, reports the Wall Street Journal.

Results are encouraging, says Sylvester (Pat) Weaver, president of the pay-television venture.

Subscription Television launched its ambitious California program two months ago by hooking up patrons in Santa Monica — and later, San Francisco — for shows of big league baseball, culture, off-Broadway plays and year-old movies.

The Wall Street Journal reported last week that the firm had lopped off 143 of its 185 sales people, that orders were lagging, and that subscribers weren't spending as much on programming as anticipated.

Caught in his Santa Monica office between plane trips, fast-moving, big-thinking Pat Weaver appeared far from discouraged. He explained that his company had leaped into operation prematurely in order to combat the anti-pay-television forces that are sponsoring proposition 15 on the Nov. 3 California ballot. It would make pay-television "contrary to public policy."

DISAPPOINTMENTS
"It's easy to make people afraid of something that doesn't exist," argued Weaver. "That's why we had to get in operation."

Admittedly, he has had disappointments. His star attractions, the San Francisco Giants and the Los Angeles Dodgers, ran out of steam. He was not able to acquire brand-new movies, as he hoped. The subscribers in the average income Santa Monica area have not spent as much for shows as expected.

"But that is partly our own doing," said Weaver. "On the one hand we have not had the programming we expected. And we have not promoted the programming as much as we could. We would much rather take

Taking Security Measures In Phila.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mayor James H. J. Tate, commenting on the Warren Commission report, says new police and Secret Service security procedures for future presidential visits here are being worked out.

The Warren report said, "The criteria and procedures of the Secret Service designed to identify and protect against persons considered 'threats to the president were not adequate' prior to the assassination of President Kennedy."

Tate told his news conference Monday that Philadelphia police are checking buildings and persons along anticipated presidential routes to tighten security. He said the arrangements are being worked out by a special city police squad and the Secret Service. Johnson is expected to be here Oct. 29 or sooner, said Tate.

Emperor Selassie Signs Peace Pact

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie left Bucharest, Romania, for Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Tuesday after signing a communique with Romanian President and Communist party chief Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej calling for preservation of world peace.

The Romanian News Agency said Gheorghiu-Dej accepted an invitation to visit Ethiopia. The date of the visit was not announced.

In less than a week and a record of no cancellations. So far no installation has been canceled except for death or moving away."

Weaver said the 6,000 hookups had been made, a total of 25,000 sales have been made in the licensed areas, and 40,000 orders have been received. The cutback in sales personnel was to allow the installations to catch up with sales, he said, as well as to await the outcome of the November election.

A Lovelie! You

By MARY SUE MILLER
EYE OPENERS. The fashion for subtle eyeshadow shades has opened up new ways to use the cosmetic for camouflage purposes.

—for improving the shape, set and coloring of the eyes. Here's a rundown:

- Use a film of pale green shadow to tone a florid eyelid.
- Pastel blue clears shallow lid coloring; intensifies the whites of the eyes, too.
- Deepset eyes come forward with an application of white beige or silvery shadow. It should be fingered onto the lid and then smoothed well into the fold with a sable brush.
- To recess whitish puffiness under the brows, deeply shadow with a mocha tone. Reverse tactic — a mere whisk of beige shadow — endorses good structure.
- Eyes set too close together look better spaced when you blend a bit of beige shadow around the inner corners.
- Round eyes are ovalized by shadowing from the center of the lid to the outer ends of the eye sockets.
- To open up small eyes, blend beige shadow from lashes to brow, fading it to nothingness at brow.
- A contrasting shade of shadow most enhances the iris coloring. For example, green eyes appear deeper with a film of amber shadow; pale green sparks brown eyes; blue eyes respond to silver grays; gray eyes to blue tones.

NEW ELECTRIC TRAIN TO BEGIN RUNS IN JAPAN

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP) — The world's fastest electric trains roll into regular operation today between Tokyo and Osaka. Japanese "vigilantes" have been alerted to prevent sabotage.

About 21,000 speed-struck Japanese and foreigners have booked seats on the 30 blue and cream 12-car trains that will make the inaugural runs on Japan's billion-dollar new Tokaido line.

Every modern safety device, including hundreds of miles of fence, automatic train controls, and elimination of all grade crossings, has been built into the 320-mile railway, the nation's first broad-gauge line. Rigid tests are mandatory for all motorists.

USE VIGILANTES

The vigilantes — volunteers living along the line — have been called into service to keep an eye out for crackpots, saboteurs and jokesters. The government-run Japanese national railways has recruited about a hundred of these civic-minded watchdogs, given them the official title of "civil cooperators" and supplied them with flares.

Their assignment is to keep an eye out for boulders, oil drums or other obstacles on the tracks, notify police if things get out of hand, and, if necessary, rush out onto the right of way.

Beware! Dark shades and a heavy hand will spoil the illusion. For success, underplay.

THE EYES OF YOUTH

You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care, cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, THE EYES OF YOUTH. BACKERS SEEK NEW PROPOSAL ON HEALTH BILL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of the health care plan for the aged faced Congress' adjournment clock today trying to find some form of their proposal that could win quick acceptance.

The odds still appeared to be heavily against them, although there were reports of a new strategy to get a vote on a compromise measure even if the present, Senate-passed plan is completely scuttled by conference meeting today.

The plan now before the conference committee is for a hospital care benefit added to the present Social Security retirement system. This runs into the long-time opposition of a majority of the House conferees, headed by Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee.

But proponents, working with technicians from the Welfare Department, were understood to be drafting a stripped-down proposal that would be at least technically outside the Social Security system.

Moreover, there was talk that such a plan might be given a fresh start by being attached, not to the Social Security bill now in conference, but to another House-passed measure — a minor tariff bill the Senate has before it today.

This strategy would get around technical parliamentary objections that have already blocked one attempt to get a conference vote on a similar proposal.

MILLS VOICES FEARS A more important question was whether the proposal could avoid Mills' objections.

SECOND SIAMESE TWIN SUCCUMBS

CHICAGO (AP) — The second Jaquet Siamese twin died Monday night of pneumonia. He was 9 days old.

Ronald Jaquet's condition had weakened since Sunday when he had been given a 50-50 chance of survival. He had been on the critical list since Wednesday.

His brother, Donald, died Wednesday. He was considered the weaker twin because of a congenital heart defect and the lack of a large intestine.

The twins were born Sept. 19 in suburban Evanston hospital to Carol Jaquet, 21, of suburban Norridge. They were rushed to Children's Memorial the following day, where they were separated at the abdomen in a 3½-hour operation.

Mrs. Jaquet's husband, Richard, 26, is a truck driver.

The first industrial plant built exclusively for the manufacture of internal combustion engines rose in Cologne in 1864. Three years later, N. A. Otto produced a four-stroke gas engine, which was one of the forerunners of modern internal combustion motors.

process, opened up somewhat in a speech Monday night in Little Rock. While repeating he fears adding a health component to Social Security would endanger the system, he acknowledged that the problem of health care for the aged has not been solved by existing measures.

Despite the known wishes of President Johnson for Congress to act on a health care plan before adjournment, chances seemed to be against it.

The compromise now being talked about would have much more limited hospital benefits than the Senate-passed plan, would be financed by a tax outside the Social Security framework and would treat separately beneficiaries over 65 and those who have not yet reached retirement age.

RIOT CONTROL TRAINING TO BE INCREASED

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the Defense Department will step up riot-control training in national guard units to help quell riots such as those which occurred in Philadelphia and eight other northern cities this past summer.

The president's action, part of a four-pronged program aimed at stamping out riots, was disclosed Saturday in response to recommendations made by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The FBI director, who reported to President Johnson's request, said the riots represented "a senseless attack on all constituted authority without purpose or object" and were neither race riots nor the work of Communists or other extremist organizations.

NOT ORGANIZED "No evidence was found that the riots were organized on a national basis by any single person, group of persons, or organizations," Hoover said in his 19-page report. He said the mobs were characterized as "young punks," "school dropouts," and "common hoodlums" by various local officials.

Hoover's report also indicated that no definite pattern was found to exist in connection with the riots from one city to another.

The riots investigated by the FBI included outbreaks, chronologically listed, at New York City and Rochester, N.Y.; Jersey City, Elizabeth and Paterson, N.J.; Dixmoor, Ill.; Philadelphia, and the ocean resorts of Seaside, Ore., and Hampton Beach, N.H. The bulk of Hoover's report dealt with the seven

Population Near Philadelphia Gains

WASHINGTON (AP) — The population of the Philadelphia metropolitan area increased by 212,000, or 4.9 per cent, in the three years following the 1960 census, the Census Bureau reports.

The population of the area was estimated at 4,555,000 on July 1, 1963, compared with 4,342,897 on April 1, 1960.

The percentage increases of various sectors within the metropolitan area included Philadelphia proper 2.1 per cent; Bucks County 6.4 per cent; Chester County 10 per cent; Delaware County 4 per cent; Montgomery County 7.5 per cent; Burlington, N.J., 15.8 per cent; Camden, N.J., 6.4 per cent; Gloucester, N.J., 3.4 per cent.

cases of big-city violence.

As part of the president's program, the FBI will make riot-control training available to all police departments in the country.

SCHOOL DROPOUTS

The president also said he has directed the secretary of health, education and welfare to make a study of the dropout program followed in the District of Columbia—one of the most intensive in the nation—and other places, and to make recommendations on what further steps might be taken by the federal government in meeting the problem.

"Fourth, at an appropriate time I intend to call a conference of state and city officials to discuss ways in which the federal government can continue to be of assistance in this whole area," the president said.

Hoover's report stated the riots in the nine cities "were not riots of Negroes against whites or whites against Negroes—and they were not a direct outgrowth of conventional civil rights protest."

TWO MEASURES APPROVED BY ROME COUNCIL

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council voted approval Wednesday to two historic measures — the recognition of shared authority between Pope and bishops, and the creation of a permanent body of married and single deacons.

The approval of the measures came in an over-all vote on the third chapter of the council schema "de ecclesia," on the nature of the Church. The council voted on individual clauses over the past several days.

By Wednesday's vote in a council working session in St. Peter's, the assembly established its final text of the chapter.

However, it is still not a full-fledged council decree.

PUBLIC SESSION

Other chapters in the schema have not yet been approved by the council. Once they are voted in working session, the council must meet in public session with the Pope and cast one last ballot on the entire schema.

But that last public session is largely a formality for the promulgation of the schema as a decree.

The vote on the third chapter of "de ecclesia" was divided into two parts. First the council fathers voted on the nature of the episcopacy, including the concept of collegiality, or the sharing of bishops as a body with the Pope in authority over the Roman Catholic Church.

VOTE 1,624 VS. 567

A second ballot was then taken on the section establishing the diaconate.

The vote on the nature of the episcopacy was 1,624 in favor, 567 in favor but with reservations, and 42 against. On the diaconate, the vote was 1,704 in favor, 481 in favor with reservations, and 53 against.

In both cases two-thirds majorities of 1,492 were required. Both votes exceeded this number, even without the support of those voting with reservations.

The council schedule called for resumption of a controversial debate on the sources of divine revelation. Argument about the roles of tradition and scripture became so bitter at the first session in 1962 that the late Pope John XXIII intervened personally.

SHARED POWER

The concept of shared papal-episcopal power has been described by Pope Paul VI as he decisive issue before the council.

It has implications for Christian unity in that it completes the doctrine of papal primacy proclaimed by the first Vatican Ecumenical Council in 1870. Many Protestants felt that too much emphasis had been put on papal authority.

Pope Paul stressed, as he opened the council session Sept. 14, that the bishops must decide how they share power with him. But he added that the sharing would not lessen either papal primacy or papal infallibility in official pronouncements on matters of Christian faith or morals.

The acceptance of the concept could lead to the establishment of a senate of bishops to aid the Pope in Church government.

Progressive prelates generally supported collegiality. Many conservatives expressed fear that it could weaken the Pope's primacy and therefore the Church itself.

The Communist Party of Indonesia claims 3,500,000 members.
